DEDICATION

The dedication of the 1996 Centurion goes to a well respected member of the SWHS teaching staff, a respected coach and an exciting English teacher— Mr. Edward Duclos.

Mr. Duclos graduated from SWHS in 1976, came back to teach in 1988, and has been making a tremendous contribution ever since. Mr. Duclos has been the girls lacrosse coach for 6 years, was an assistant football coach, and helps with drama productions.

“Mr. Duclos always wants to learn and is never quite satisfied with what he does, he strives for improvement and perfection.” said Principal, Salvatore Randazzo. “Our English language has no word for a person who is a learner and a teacher at the same time.” said his good friend, Mrs. Petrovich.

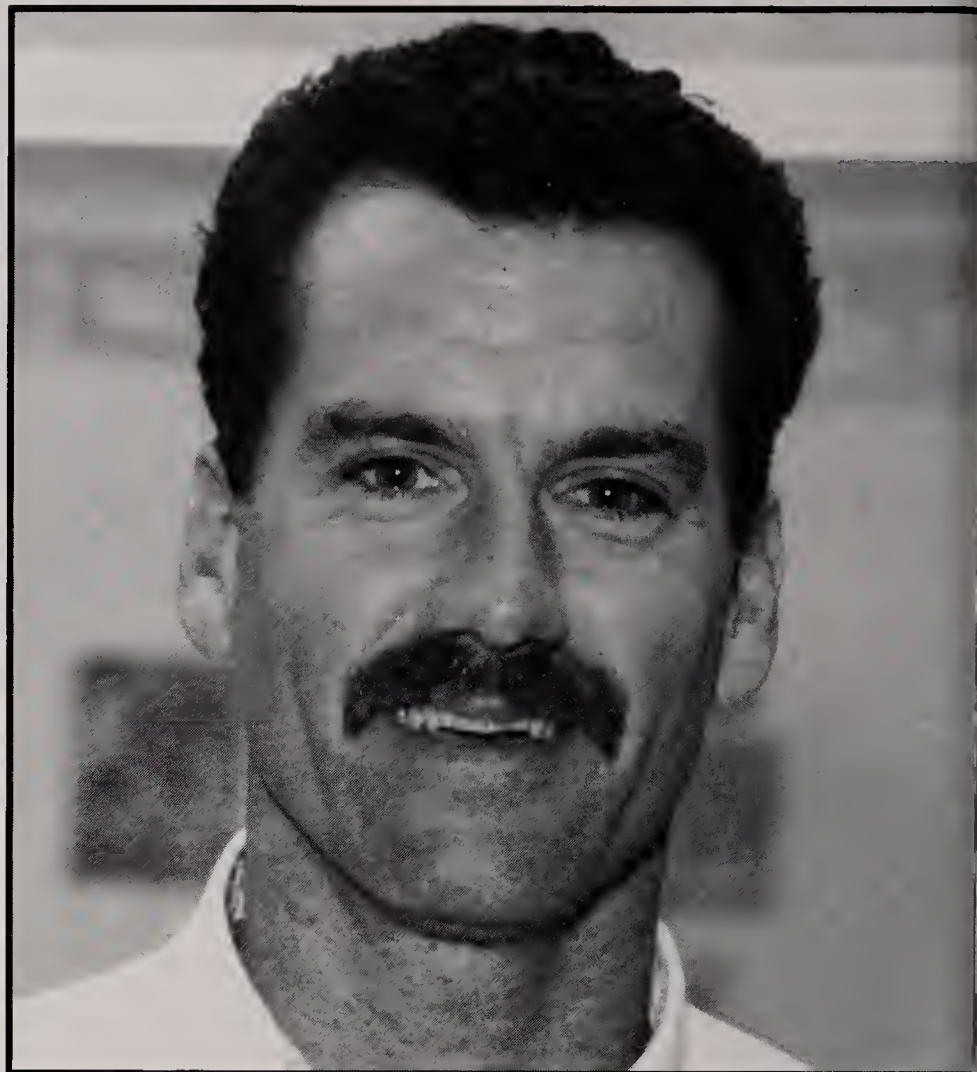

A few teachers still at SWHS had Mr. Duclos when he was a student here. “He was a great football player and also became a great captain.” said Coach Ralph McCarrol. Mr. Benford, then a history teacher, stated, “Ed did an independent study project on the Civil War that was thoughtful, insightful and very well done.”

His dedication is shown by his arriving at school at 6:30 a.m. each morning and ending his day around 6:00 p.m. Mr. Duclos is full of energy and everyone in his classroom finds themselves eager to learn. He makes his classes interesting and exciting. He shows a strong sense of commitment by often giving up his free time to give extra help to students who are having trouble.

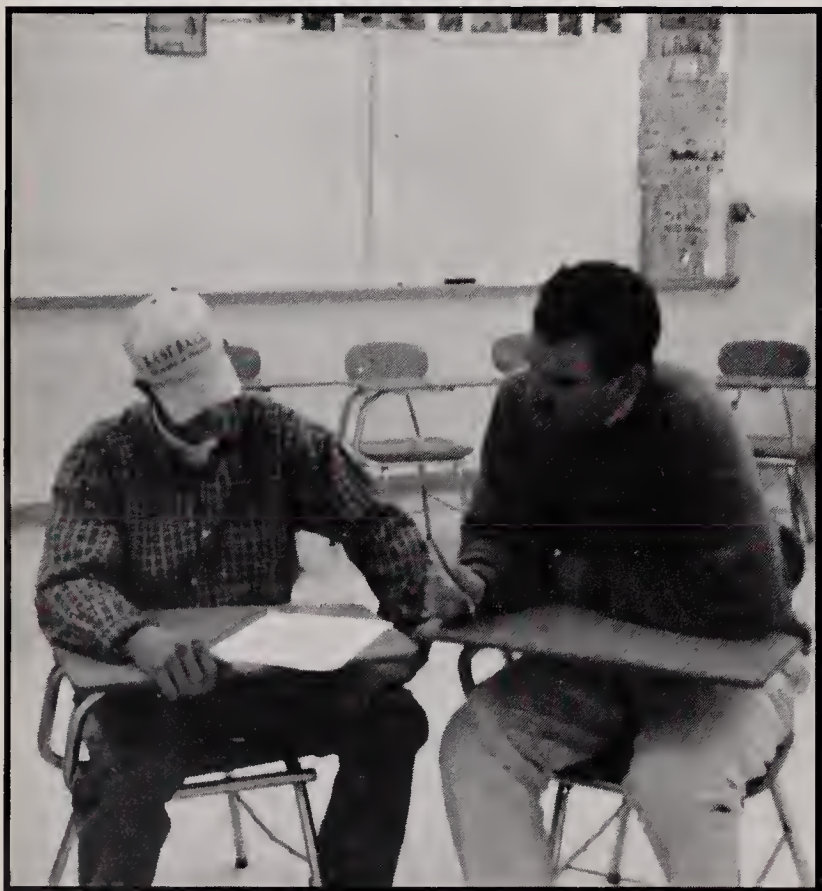

Mr. Duclos has an excellent reputation, a great personality and is someone who finds humor in life. He is a big Seinfeld fan. He collects Far Side cartoons and sometimes uses them in his classroom discussions.

Anyone who is lucky enough to have had Mr. Duclos for a teacher or coach can tell you that he really makes a great impact on his students and teaches skills that can be carried throughout one's life.

TATTOO'S & BODY PIERCING...

As you walk around the halls of SWHS you may notice the various types of art work displayed on student's bodies. It seems to be one of the newest fads to influence teens in the nineties. The art work ranges from butterflies and flowers to hearts with wings and skulls, each different, but very meaningful in their own way. "I decided to get my tattoo because I saw it as a way to express my deepest emotions and thoughts through a form of artistry," said the owner of the sunshower tattoo.

Another fad that has become popular among today's youth is body piercing. "I'm really tired of people asking me if my nose hurts," said senior Robyn Enes, who is sporting the new trendy fad by wearing a nose ring.

Through the artistry of tattoo's and body piercing we are able to see just one of the many ways that today's teens are choosing to express themselves.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Representatives from each class at SWHS meet regularly to discuss student concerns, plan programs, and serve the students of the school. The student government is very active in the school as well as the community. They participate in the Jingle bell walk where proceeds go towards the Arthritis Foundation. Student government plans spirit week and organizes the SWHS radio show. They help organize the pep rallies and help put more variety into the homecoming celebrations. They help encourage school spirit by sponsoring dress up and dress down days.

DRAMAS, MUSICALS, &

MORE

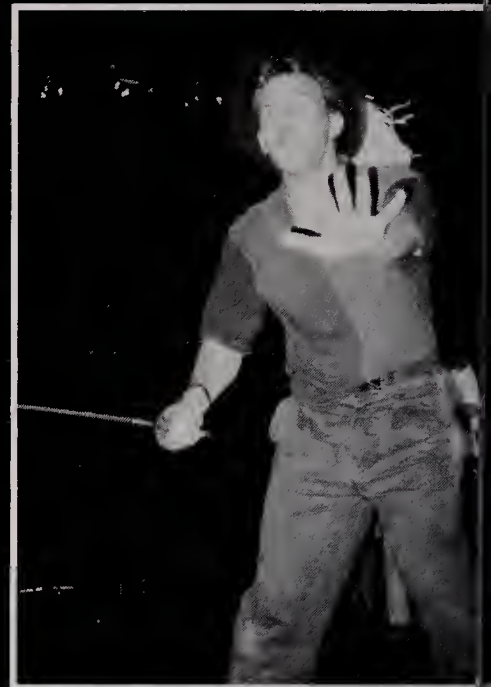

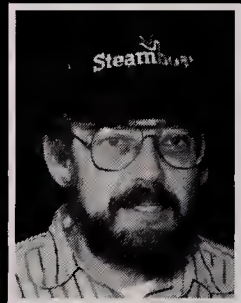

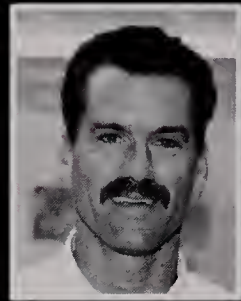

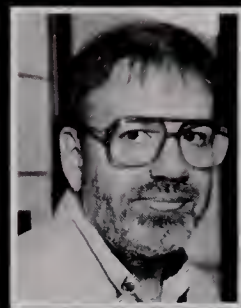

The Drama Club presented two exciting new plays. One was A Company of Wayward Saints and the other was Front Page. A Company of Wayward Saints was a dramatic comedy about nine characters trying to find out what their real identities were and the struggles they go through in doing so. Front Page was a comedy about newspaper reporters trying to solve a murder and a kidnapping.

This year, the directors decided to do a full singing musical, Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. This production was the highlight of the dramatic season and proved to be a huge success.

"I love doing this," said Mr. Graner, musical director for Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, "It was very challenging producing a musical that was all music with no spoken words."

NHS

National Honor Society is an organization that brings the achievements of outstanding senior high school students to the attention of their classmates, their parents, their communities, and the colleges they plan to attend. There are chapters in more than 20,000 secondary schools which strive to give practical meaning to the Society's dedication to scholarship service, leadership and character. This year's NHS chapter took part in Habitat for Humanity's "Christmas in April" where NHS members helped refurbish homes of needy residents in the greater Hartford area.

MATH TEAM

The math team is open to any student who is intrigued by math. This year's team consists of 12 students who work hard at solving difficult math equations.

Members compete monthly in the Capitol Region Math League against 14 other local schools. Individual students who score well may advance to northeast regional and national competition.

A banquet is held at the end of the year to honor those students who received perfect scores in the competitions.

MODEL UN

The Model United Nations is an organization in which each member works within a delegation to represent a member of the United Nations.

The Model U.N. club had another successful year. The team attended conferences at the University of Hartford, Boston, and spent an afternoon at Harvard University. The team won an award for participation at the University of Hartford. "I'm really proud of what we accomplished. The underclassman participated well. It was a fun and memorable experience," said senior Carly Anderson. Senior Charles Brooks exclaimed, "Model U.N. is a good experience. You learn a lot, and meet a lot of people."

OUTING CLUB

The Outing Club presents students with opportunities to go skiing, horseback riding, white-water canoeing, and other outdoor activities. The most successful adventures include climbing Mt. Washington, a Canada Ski trip, and indoor rock climbing.

"The Outing Club offers great out of school activities," said junior Joellen Saddock, "Everyone in the club always has a great time." Joellen has been in the club since her freshman year. She looks forward to a lot more great adventures next year.

Mr. Cloutman, has been the head advisor for past five years. The club meets a few times a year to discuss ideas and plan for new activities.

A RAINY DAY IN QUEBEC

"Despite the cold weather and the rain, It was an awesome time," said Melissa Lacasse. The rain on Saturday shut down the clubs plan to ski at Mt. Sutton, so a side trip to Montreal was quickly put together.

"The trip was an adventure because of the bad weather, but we made the best of it," was the comment from Mr. Cloutman. A full day of skiing on Sunday with fresh snow at Mt. Orford made the trip an interesting one. Kids got to see the sights of Montreal and have a near perfect day of skiing all in one trip. Said Ryan Joy, "The skiing was not the best but the trip was great anyway."

Mt WASHINGTON TRIP A TRUE CLIMB

This year's trip to Mt. Washington was a first.

"It was the first time that we climbed Mt. Washington where everyone made it to the summit," said Mr Cloutman. Although a small trip, when compared to some of the skiing trips, the climb pitted the hearts and souls of Outing Club members against the rugged terrain and changable weather of the highest Mountain in New England.

"It was a difficult climb, but I'm glad I went. It was a lot of fun," stated Joellen Saddock.

Above: Gordon Perkins and Kyle Perdotty stand next to the elevation marker at the summit of Mt. Washington. Left: Coming through the mist of the snow making machines, this Outing Club member has a great day on Mt. Orford.

Below: Mike Kerrigan celebrates after a great run down from the top of Mt. Giroux.

Meg Murphy agreed with Ryan, "The weather caused us some problems, nothing we couldn't handle, we made the best of it and the day skiing was great."

This year's trip to Canada was one of the largest in memory. Two buses took the ninety four skiers to Sherbrook on Friday evening, February, 26th. The trip was right in the middle of midyear exams due to snow days in December and January. Saturday's rain with strong winds forced the cancellation of skiing on Mt. Sutton, but allowed for an impromptu trip to Montreal.

U.S. FIRST COMPETITION

This year's US FIRST team's goal was to place ahead of all the other United Technology teams in order to earn a place in the US FIRST National Championship at the Epcot Center in Florida.

When the final round ended, the SWHS team had finished 5th. When we realized we were going to Florida, we were all thrilled," said senior Mark Dezelon.

The US FIRST competition is a national engineering contest that exposes high school students to the world of engineering. "It's a great experience," said US FIRST veteran Paul Farris. "I recommend to anyone thinking of becoming an engineer." Teaming up with engineers from International Future Cells in South Windsor, SWHS students get a hands-on look at the engineering profession. In a few weeks, the students and engineers work together to brainstorm, design, construct and test their robot. The teams then compete in a spirited, no-holds-barred tournament complete with referees, cheerleaders, and time clocks. "What can I say? It's a lot of fun," commented team member Chris Tyo.

"IN MY MIND'S EYE" SWHS'S LITERARY MAGAZINE

The Literary Magazine is a group of about twenty five staff members who read and discuss the poems, stories, essays and artwork submitted by SWHS students.

"I like to listen to students discuss the readings and art work because it makes me proud that these kids are here because they want to be." said Literary Magazine advisor, Ms. Barbara Laurain.

"IN MY MIND'S EYE", the literary magazine, is published each June and sold to the SWHS student body.

UNIFIED SPORTS

Unified Sports is a group which competes in a variety of sports including basketball, soccer, softball and volleyball. This year, they have gone to a more competitive league call the Unified East Conference. Here they play teams like Manchester, Windsor, Killingly, and Norwich Free Academy. This group promotes more of a fun and learning atmosphere on the playing fields as opposed to being more serious and competitive. The group has gained much recognition during the past couple of seasons. In addition this year the team has recruited cheerleaders to help promote their games. "The team this year is really outstanding. We have a great bunch of kids, who are really willing to challenge themselves, and accomplish their goals," said advisor Ms. Mortenson.

UNITY

"Unity is a club where students are able to go to do something for themselves," said Ms. Kaiser, this years Unity advisor. Unity is all about coming together with people of different cultures and ethnic backgrounds. One of the many activities that Unity participates in is a student exchange with Weaver High School. About twenty students from each school are paired up, and spend a day in each other's classes, at his or her own school.

"Unity is a place where people can speak openly about any issue and feel comfortable about the topic, and themselves," said Lisa Liszchala. This year Unity has accomplished its goal of bringing students together in an equal environment.

"It is a great cultural experience for every culture, not just one... I think that no one should be intimidated by anyone or anything," commented Shaunte Eady.

GLOBAL AWARENESS

The global awareness program has done many things for this school. Mr. White, "the Chief," started the program five years ago. For the first few years the group would get together to discuss various environmental issues, and over the last couple of years the group has taken the initiative to act upon those issues. Global Awareness has placed paper recycling bins in each classroom and hopes to get both glass and aluminium bins placed here also. They held a fund raiser, selling tee-shirts, where the earnings were donated to environmental groups.

Global Awareness advisor Mrs. Field said, "Since I teach Marine Science, I am in the position to promote environmental awareness." A goal of this year's group was to adopt a body of land or water that they would keep clean from pollution.

PEER ADVOCATES

Peer Advocates is a group of students who talk with other students to help them solve their problems. In the past, there was a class called Foundations in Counseling which taught future peer advocates the skills they would need in a counseling situation. Unfortunately, this year there is no class due to a shortage in faculty. However, the lack of classroom experience has not kept this years peer advocates from becoming involved in other activities.

Peer mediation is a new program designed to help students work through their problems before they become out of hand. Advocates have also become involved at Wapping School, helping out with children who may have needed more attention.

"I feel that the Peer Advocates have done much for our school community, and should definitely continue to involve willing students," said senior Heather Mackintosh.

CROSS COUNTRY

NOW IS THE TIME TO BE STATE CHAMPIONS

BOTH TEAMS TAKE TOP HONORS

"This was the hardest working Cross Country team I've had," Coach Le Breche commented about this team. "During the summer and on weekends you could always see them running," he continued.

Coach LeBreche hit the nail on the head when he called them hard working. They definitely didn't finish this well by being lazy.

This work ethic and the talent they possessed is what made them STATE CHAMPIONS. Both the boys' and the girls' teams became state victors.

One of the reasons the girls felt they won was that they were more of a family than a team.

"The team was great. Not many of us were good friends before, but now we're really close and I know I'll miss the team, because it will never be the same," said Danielle Tardif.

CHEERLEADING

TIME TO RALLY THE BOBCAT FANS

The '95-'96 Cheerleading squad started a new football season with an experience squad and a new coach. During the summer, the squad spent a week at cheerleading camp at Southern Connecticut State University. At camp, the squad learned new routines and gained confidence. With a lot of hard work, and practice the cheerleaders pulled the squad together.

The fall cheerleaders had a busy schedule, cheering for both soccer and football. They concentrated on trying to create school spirit, but had a difficult job of getting the fans to cheer with them. The cheerleaders were successful at getting the crowd involved with them at the football games; however soccer games proved to be a more difficult challenge. Basketball games, as always, were well attended and the cheerleaders got to show off their stuff.

The squad was dedicated and with the fact that they had to get to know a new coach, it was still considered to be a successful season for the squad.

"Over all , this season was successful. We had some difficulty getting everything together and getting to know a new coach. In the end, everything worked out very well and I think next year's squad will be even stronger."

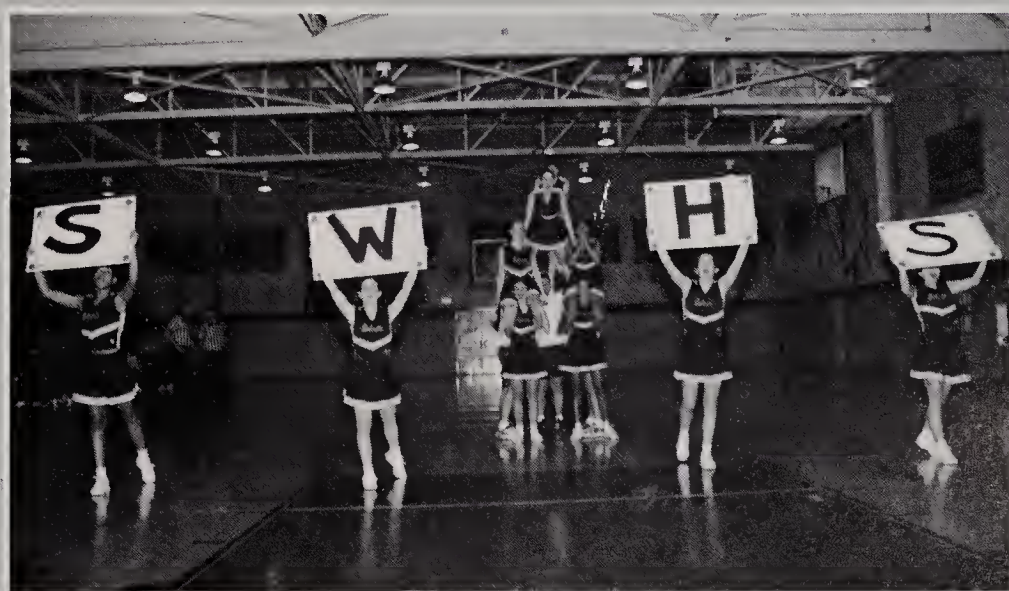

Jen DeNino

"I thought Cheer-leading went well considering that we had a new coach. I think we all worked well together and got a lot accomplished. The season had it's ups and downs."

"I'll miss it next year."

FOOTBALL

A TIME FOR LEARNING

- A time of misfortunes

"Injuries played a major role during the first half of the season," said Coach McCarroll. Sophomores had to step up and play both offense and defense which made things difficult since they had little or no experience.

- Poor timing

"It was tough coming back from surgery to play in the Homecoming game," said co-capt. Jon Giordano. "It was a big accomplishment for me." Jon was out for the first half of the season due to a knee injury.

When starting quarterback Donny Parker went out with a knee injury, backup Adam Ball had this to say. "There was a lot of pressure on me to come in as a sophomore and play a major role for our team."

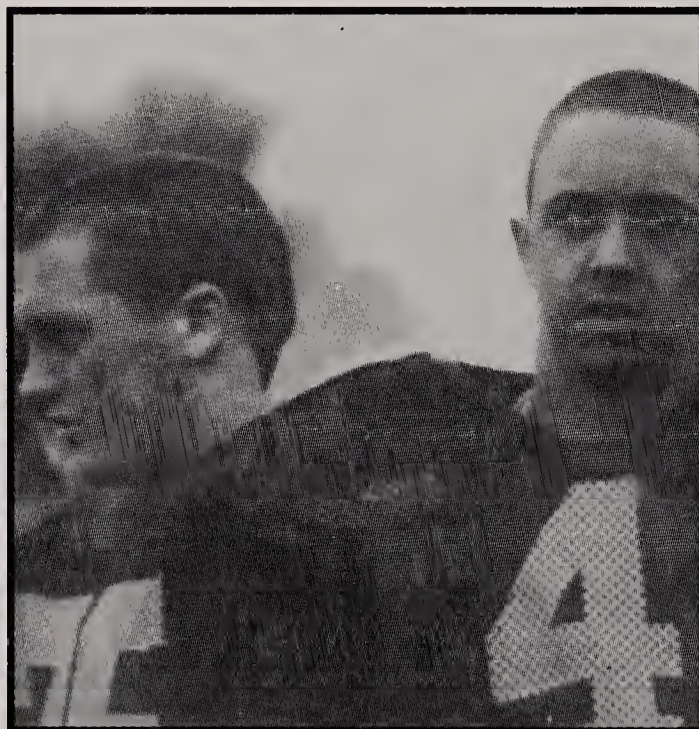

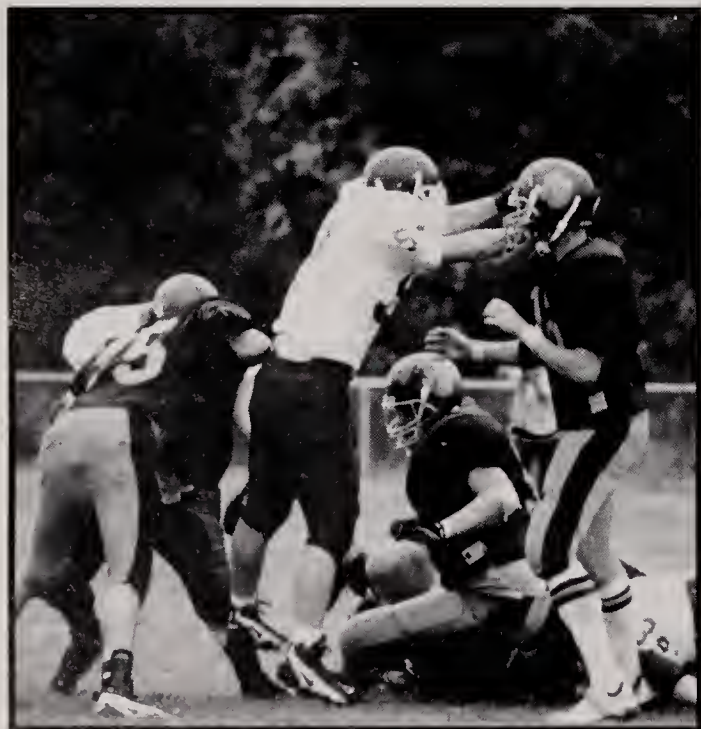

Senior co-capt. Mark Eichler also was a key loss during the first part of the season. "I was upset that I broke my hand, but I was happy because I came back for the Rockville game." After returning from his injuries, he came back to receive all league honors at running-back for the second year in a row.

- Just in time

After a meager first half of the season, the Bobcats were in full strength going into their Homecoming game against East Hartford. "It was sweet getting revenge, because they knocked us out of title contention last year," said Mark Eichler. Larry Burgess added, "It was a great feeling to be able to play with a full deck of cards. All my fellow senior teammates returned."

BOYS' SOCCER

TIMELY VICTORIES TEAM INTO STATES

The Boys' Soccer team knew that they had to come together this season and they did just that. They set their goals to make it to states and worked hard from the beginning. This hard work payed off when South Windsor qualified for States after beating Rockville.

The team was united this year more than in the past." senior Mike Wisnowski stated with remembrance of the season.

The team had to find players with skill and determination that would blend in with the returning starters. They started strong, winning four out of their first six games.

In the middle of the season the Bobcats began to slide tying with Fermi and losing to Enfield, Hartford and Windham. "Unfortunately, there were more downs than ups." Dan Cain said about the season in whole.

The team was very unpredictable. I never knew what kind of team was going to take the field." stated Coach Longo.

After suffering a devastating loss to East Hartford, the Bobcats knew it was time for revenge. Goalkeeper Dan Cain shut out East Hartford while Mike Wisnowski had the only goal, a 25 yard chip shot over E.H.'s keeper, to give South a 1-0 victory. For the first time the Bobcats either beat or tied every team in the league.

"We had a lot of talent, but we were never able to put it all together." Explained senior Jason Slater.

They accomplished their season goal of getting to States. Unfortunately they ran into Xavier, who later won the Class LL state championship. "We just got beat by a better team, they had more skill." said Dan Cain.

"The Seniors will be missed because they were the backbone and soul of the team. Many of them have been starting for three years." said Coach Longo.

This year was their time, next year...

GIRLS' SOCCER

THIRD YEAR AS CCC EAST CHAMPIONS

Time was definitely a factor in the girls' soccer semi-final game of the state tournament, it just ran out. The girls ended up losing by one goal as their last surge up field with one minute left proved unsuccessful.

Something that was a major change for the girls was their motivation and the size of their hearts. Coach Morgan-Hostetler's number one priority for the girls was that each individual worked at their personal best.

For the third consecutive year, the girls soccer team captured the CCC East title. Junior goalkeeper Katie Woods, commented, "We had a successful season overall and we worked very hard all season. We're a young team, we'll do very well next year. The transition between coaches went smoothly. I can't wait for next season." This seems to be the attitude of all the players and when August 30, comes around, there will be new captains, some new players, new hopes and new goals.

Next year's goal will be nothing short of a state championship.

FIELD HOCKEY

ALMOST MADE IT THIS TIME!

Time took its place when the 1995 field hockey season ended with a splash. The girls had waited many years before capturing the CCC East title away from their long time rival Enfield, but after a long journey they finally did. Making it to the State semi-finals was also a major accomplishment.

"The way I look at it, last year we made it to the quarter finals, this year we made it to the semi finals, so by the time next year comes around we will be ready for the finals." said junior Jess Sullivan. Many girls believed that time and effort were the keys to their success. Sophomore Lynn Rhoda replied, "I'm really proud of our season, it really gives us something to look forward to for next year."

The team will only lose three seniors next year. These seniors brought the team together with their time and dedication.

"The seniors made the season a real pleasure and they taught us many things while they were here. I will really miss them" stated Junior Betsy Judd.

Only time will tell what is in store for next year's field hockey team.

VOLLEYBALL

TIME TO TAKE THE CCC EAST AND MOVE ON TO STATES

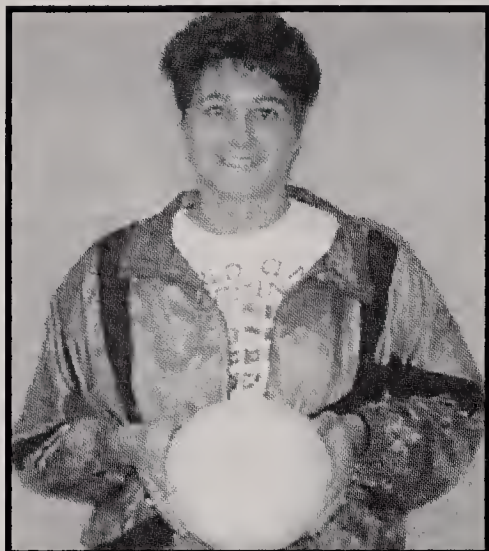

"We weren't expected to be as good as last year's team," said senior co-captain Kyle Burke, and why not, the year before they made it to the first round of the State Tournament.

Unlike last years team, who lost five games in a row, this team was fortunate enough to only lose one game all year. Their only loss was to Manchester but the Bobcats would rally to beat Manchester the next time around. "This victory to the team was the highlight of the year," said senior captain Liz Cassarino. With the victory of Manchester and other conference teams the Bobcats were able to clinch the division title.

Even with their loss to Bunnell in the semifinals of the state tournament, Tracy Krajewski said that she is, "Proud of the team and our accomplishments."

As for the future of the Volleyball team Kyle Burke stated, "Next year we will have a good team because of the fact that our bench has a lot of depth." "Even though they are losing seven seniors they will have the skills," said Liz Cassarino.

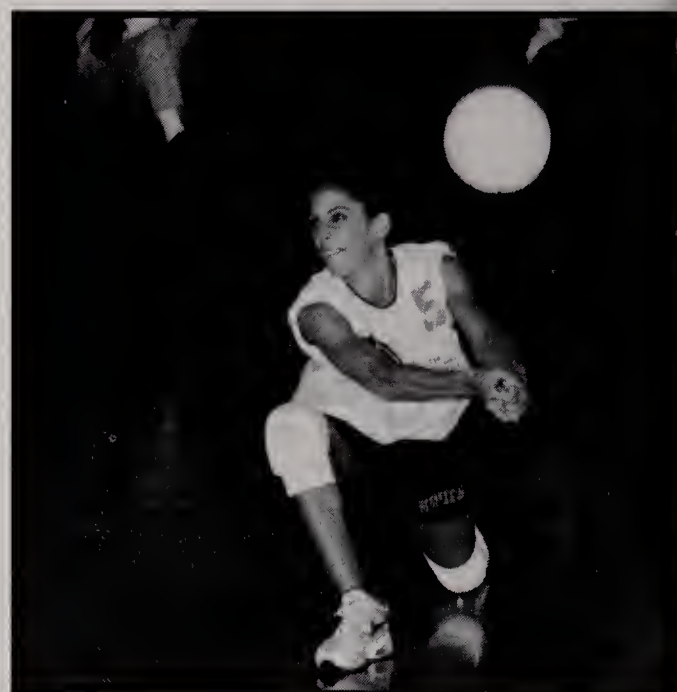

Overall a valiant effort put forth by this years Volleyball team and Congratulations on winning the EAST!!

BOYS' BASKETBALL

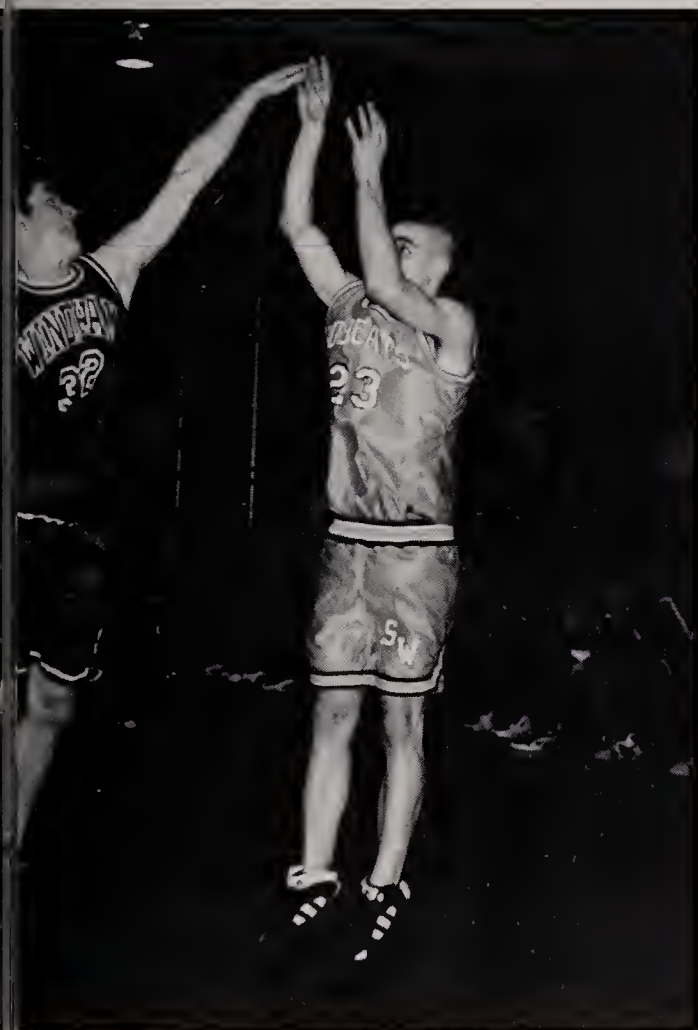

"All year we competed with the top teams of our league, like Manchester, Hartford Public, and Rockville, but we could never get over the hump and beat them. Finally, in the tournament, all our hard work payed off when we upset the number nine seed, New Britain, and the top player in the state." stated team captain Greg Stillman.

This seemed to describe the boys' basketball season right on the money. Through hard times during the regular season, the boys hung tough. They accomplished their goal of making it to the state tournament. In the tournament the boys had to face New Britain, one of the top teams in the state. Going in the Bobcats were major underdogs. With a hard fought out battle, South Windsor came out the winner. "The New Britain win really topped off the season.", said junior Jason Sylvia.

Expecting to be blown out by a team, and then beating them on their home court is quite an accomplishment. Overall the boys had a positive year.

Left: Typical of the Bobcat determination is this great rebounding effort. This style of play was what kept SWHS in many close games.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

TIME FOR A CCC EAST CHAMPIONSHIP

It was time for the girls' basketball team to have a very succesful season, and that's exactly what they had.

Commented junior Cristi Carbone, "We had a great season with a really good team, even though we didn't win the state tournament, I am glad we lost to the team that finally won it." The Bobcats were extremely succesful in the regular season. The team was one of the best the school had ever seen, and dominated most of the teams they played.

The girls had a chance to win the C.C.C. East title if they could defeat Rockville on the road. The tenacious Lady'cats walked right into Rockville and took the championship by beating the Rams 45-43 in a really tough and close game.

"We had a succesful season and by winning the C.C.C. East we accomplished what we set out to do," explained Katie Murphy. "Although we lost in the state tournament we had a great season."

Even though South Windsor lost in the state tournament, it didn't diminish what the girls accomplished this season.

Many will look back on this season and remember the success that can be achieved by working as a team.

INDOOR TRACK

RUNNERS UP

The girls' indoor track team had a strong, well rounded season with many individuals contributing to the scoring. They ended up in second place in both the CCC East and Class M state championships. Maura Danahy broke the record for the 1600 and 3200 meter runs at the CCC East meet. Maura also won the same events at the Class M meet. Maura deciding only to run the 3200 meter run at the State Open, won it out right and was the top seed from Connecticut at the New England Championships. The 4x400 relay team of Beth Sherman, Katie McGray, Carrie Shiffler, and Caitlyn Ramsey finished in first place in the Class M meet. They also placed third at the State Open to qualify for New Englands.

Also placing at the State Open was Sam Foster in high jump, and Kristine Lamm in long jump. They will also be competing at New Englands. The girls are very proud of their accomplishments and should do well next year.

The boys' indoor track team struggled through their season to place 4th at CCC East meet. Mike Danahy had a strong senior season placing first at CCC East meet and 4th at the Class L State Championships. He placed second at the State Open to qualify for New Englands. Jason Bifolk also contributed to the team by winning the shot put at the CCC East meet. Senior Jason Cooley and Nate Briggs performed well.

HOCKEY

TOP RANKED TEAM IN DIVISION II

"South Windsor penalty, number eight, roughing," I said over the loud speaker.

"!@%#," screams senior John Round. "He was standing in front of the goal! What does he want me to do, give him a kiss?!"

Round sits bent over in the penalty box. Sitting in the cage next to the bench, I can smell the team. They move from the bench in an organized rush. On this day they are playing an incredibly tough game against Ridgefield. The score was tied with 24 seconds left.

This year's team is proved to be a definite threat, winning the CCC East, and defeating their rivals Rockville both times. Lead by new coaches Dave Fisher and Paul Stone, the Bobcats had the best season in school history, at 18-1-1.

"The atmosphere this year is a lot different than last year. Last year it was an individualistic team, this year we have a lot of depth which enhances our team unity, explains senior captain Keith Corneau. The team has definitely shown a strong sense of unity this season.

Even with the loss of nine seniors, seven of whom were the top leading scorers, the Bobcats improved this year with the addition of freshman Jon DiSalvatore on offense, and Steve Papadogianus on defense. In goal, junior Josh Siegal, has brought new depth to the already strong defense. "We are really playing as a team this year, that's why we've grown so much since last year," explains Siegal.

Sitting in the cage I can feel the energy in the air of the team. The clock counts down to zero. The Bobcats are forced into a sudden death overtime against Ridgefield, in the quarterfinals of the state tournament. The excitement is incredible as the two teams take the ice in the overtime period. At this point, the Bobcats only have one loss this season and they are not about to except a dismissal from tournament play. The excitement builds as the game roles on. The scene is set, our hearts race and with five minutes left in overtime, Senior Captain Keith Corneau scores the most dramatic goal I could ever remember. The perfect ending to an incredible game, and the Bobcats move on. Despite their loss to Conard, 1996 State Champs, in the semifinals the bobcats had a very successful season.

It is hard to pick out the best players on a team filled with so many stars of all ages. South Windsor High hasn't seen a stronger hockey team than this year's Bobcats.

"This team was full of talent. We had leadership, some great goal-tending, and a motivating team spirit."

Keith Corneau

"I felt that the team played as a unit. Everyone contributed to their fullest, which is why our team was so successful."

GYMNASTICS

Determination and dedication was what drove the SWHS Gymnastic's team to an excellant year. The team was led by senior captain Rebecca Zimmerman who spent a great deal of time helping her teammates to perfect their routines.

This young team over came many obstacles on their way through the season which should make them a stronger and better team next year.

SWIMMING

TIME FOR A NEW TEAM SPORT

This year the girls' swim team did not score any points. They swam for their own individual times. The year was spent on practicing and improvement. Next year they hope the meets will count for points when they join a co-op with East Catholic High School.

Everyone on the team earned their own varsity letter and they all qualified for the state swim trails. The members of the team that went to states included freshmen, Megan Anderson, Sara

Brown, Erin Hanrahan, Sarah Olmstead and sophomore Stacey Ruocco. These five girls competed in the 200 yard freestyle relay and the 200 yard medley relay, and all did an outstanding job. Sophomore Marci Berlinski, who qualified in the 100 yard back stroke and the 100 yard freestyle, placed in the top 16 and swam in the state finals. Overall, the team had a great season with everyone accomplishing their own goals.

BOYS' LACROSSE

TIME FOR THE 'CATS TO GET THEIR REVENGE

In past seasons, teams have beaten up on the usually weak Bobcats. That won't happen anymore because those weak cats have evolved into ferocious Bobcats.

The smell of sweat and the grunt of an offender taking a hit from a defender. The sound of a hard rubbery ball about the size of a tennis ball wizzing by your ear. The throbbing pain of black and blue battle wounds. Only people with a true love for the game put themselves through the torture of this sport. But it is because of this love for the game that lacrosse in South Windsor is on the rise.

GIRLS' LACROSSE

A TIME OF FIRSTS!

- First in the CCC East division
- Beat their all time rivals, Simsbury
- Made it to the semi-finals of the first ever girls lacrosse state championships
- Ending their season with a 14- 2 record and were very proud of their accomplishments.

"Our season was phenomenal. It proved that hard work and dedication could take us places. Our team has so much potential and we took it to the limit and its outcome was amazing." comment Junior Courtney Davis.

Sophomore Lisa Jasinski said "Next year will be awesome, everybody is so excited to go out and do the best we can all over again."

BASEBALL

Many people don't understand why baseball is America's past time. They don't realize that people who play baseball suffer from a complete, unconditional love of the game.

The crack of the bat, the game winning RBI, the cheer of the faithful crowd keeps the players going. Something always happens to store a game in your memory.

Senior Craig Jacques remembers, "We were losing 6-5 in a game which we should have won easily. The first two batters grounded out. The next two batters got on, I'm not quite certain how and then I was up. I stepped up to the plate and hit an outside fast-ball down the right field line. I ended up with a triple and what ended up being the game tying and winning RBI's."

It is because of moments like this that people love baseball.

The Bobcats, who were the Class L State Champs a few years ago, are looking to rebound after a so-so season last year.

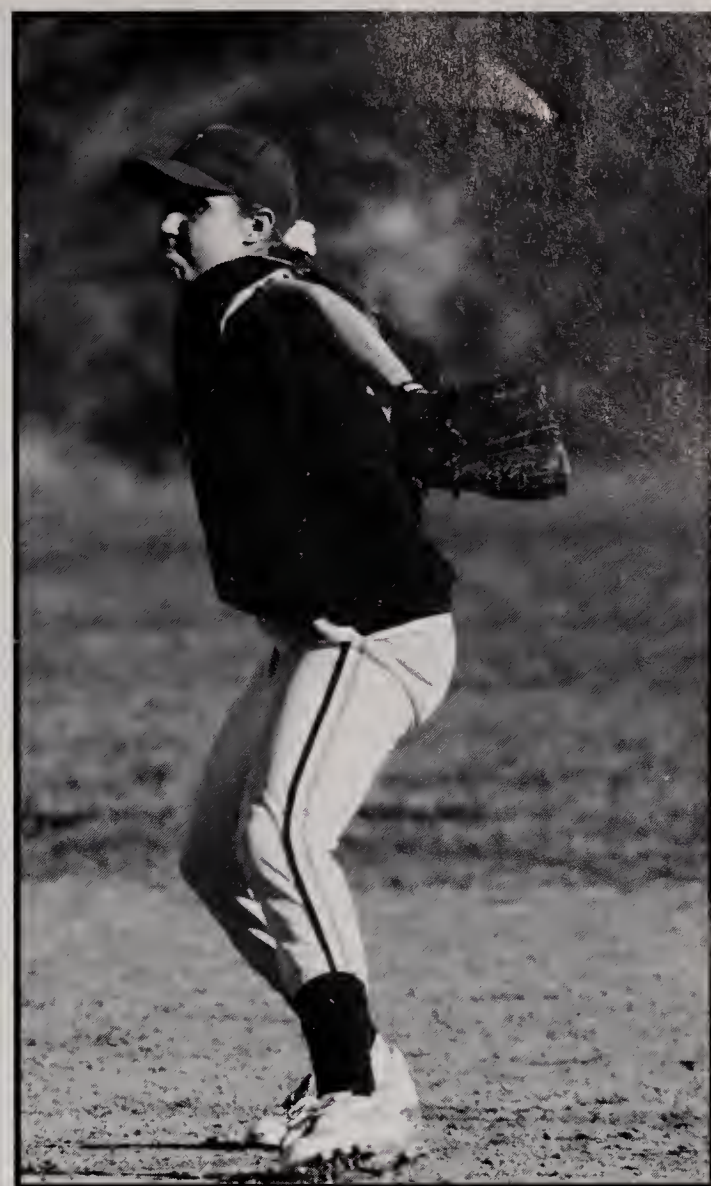

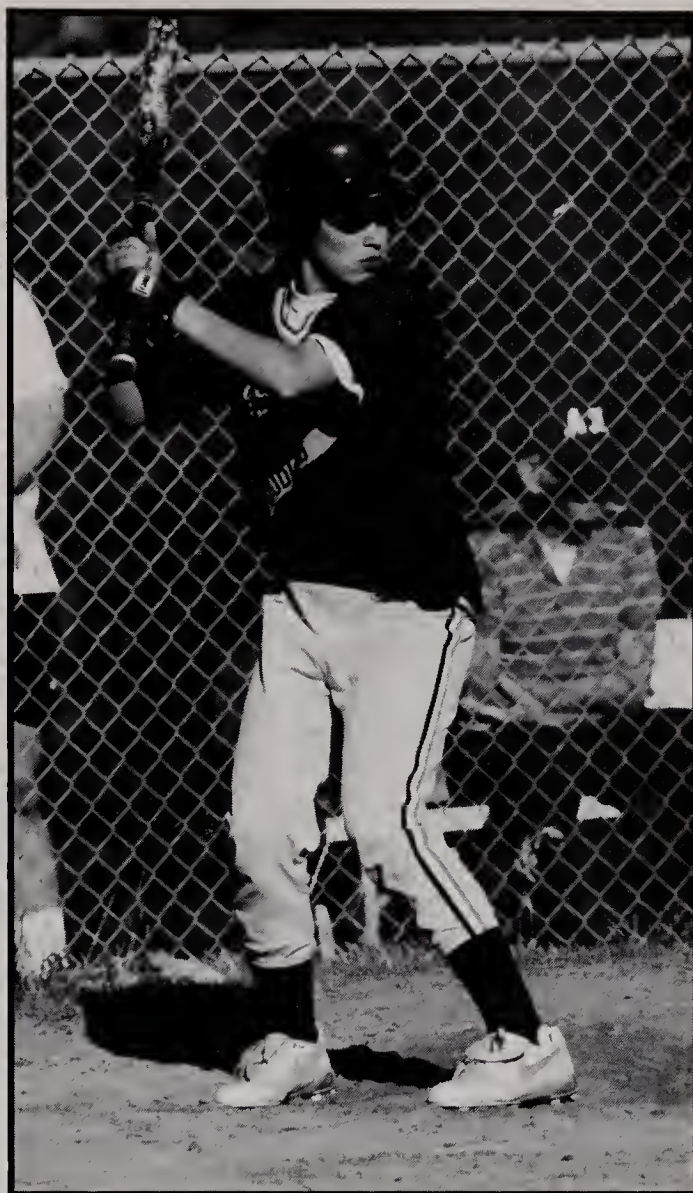

Right: Craig Jacques waits patiently in the batter's box to drive in his teammates.

SOFTBALL

Softball is often looked upon by those macho men and some baseball players as a bunch of girls who are attempting to play baseball, only they use a bigger ball and they pitch underhand. However, after seeing a varsity game, your opinion will change.

The coach has total control of her troops, almost acting like a drill sergeant. The players play with total determination, because of an obvious love of the game.

It is because of this love for the game that South Windsor softball can only get better. The new coach brought along with her a new method of teaching, so keep your eyes out for SWHS softball!

TRACK

Time to run, skip, jump and throw. During the past three years we have watched senior Mike Danahy improve greatly to help the boys track team to have many good seasons while his sister shocked everyone as a freshman winning races over and over again. They are both expected to have record breaking seasons this year.

It's time to get in the swing of things as the girls tennis team aspires to do as well this year as they did last. With senior tri-capitans Margaret Krudysz, Eurie Chung, and Robyn Enes, and several returning underclassmen, the team hopes to take the state by storm. "We have a lot to live up to this year, since we made it to states last year," said sophomore Becky Veniscofsky.

The team is hopeful to get many new players this year. With hard work and confidence, the team is positive to succeed.

ALL THE NEWS IN HALF THE TIME

This year, The Southwinds staff tried something new. The Southwinds format went from newspaper size to a 16 page news magazine format that came out seven times a year. But this didn't change the way The Southwinds reporters went after the stories that the school wanted.

"The Southwinds gave me the experience to learn what it takes to be a journalist," remarked Robyn Enes.

In class, students learn to track down a story and write it. Members of The Southwinds spent countless hours before and after school working on getting the news magazine prepared for the printer. In class, they debated their ideas and struggled to find balance for the best stories for the paper.

"When we begin a new edition of The Southwinds, we all try to find the best stories to cover," said Katie Murphy.

The reporters covered topics such as: Aids, teen pregnancy, child abuse, sports, school policy and the good things that SWHS students do for the school and community. The staff did their best to show all sides of an issue and present it in an attractive way that the students would find interesting, adding photography and graphics, to make the magazine better looking.

Joann Hu said, "When The Southwinds comes out, we can't help but just sit back with a sense of relief and a sense of real accomplishment."

CENTURION '96

"THE TIME IS NOW"

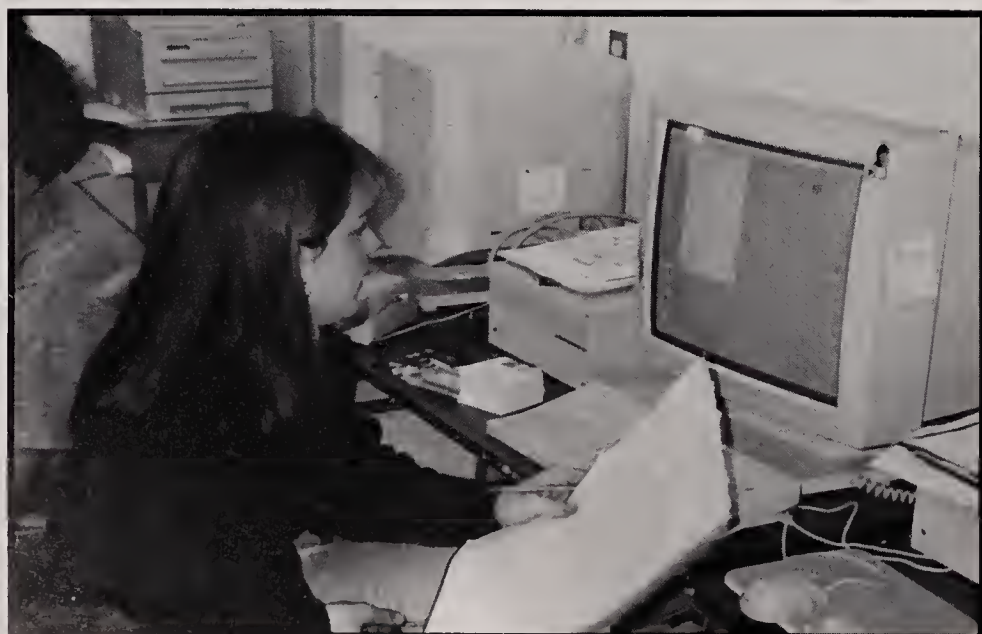

The Centurion staff faced a lot of changes this year. For the first time, sophmores and freshman were allowed to join the staff along with the juniors and seniors. With students from each grade, the book was able to focus on the whole school, and not just the upperclassmen.

In addition, the staff had two editors. Robyn Enes, a senior, and Nikki Gottier, a junior, led the class. "We decided it would be best if Nikki was an editor this year so next year she will have a better idea of what to do." said advisor Mr. William Nelson.

Weather also contributed to a lot of the problems the yearbook experienced. Snow delayed the mailing and delivery of pages. And with all of the snow days, the classes missed crucial days needed for completion of their pages.

Even with all of this, the yearbook staff was able to work together to meet deadlines, sell ads, and get the books out on

& VOCAL ENSEMBLE

The 1996 year started off with Cabaret '95 in November. Performers had to audition for the special honor of having a "spotlight solo". Held in the auditorium, Cabaret '95 played to a full house.

The Winter Concert in December, consisted of many seasonal songs and was broadcast over the public access channel of Cox Cable. Soon after the Winter Concert ended, work started on the music for Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, this year's hit musical production.

During this hectic time students were preparing their material for Eastern Regionals and All-State. P.J. Griffith, Nathan Briggs and Eric Catania were the only SWHS students chosen for both the Eastern Regionals and All-State.

The Niagara Falls Music Competition trip was the next order of business, and a great deal of effort went into the preparation for this adjudication festival. The hard work paid off and the SWHS Music Department came away with many awards.

COOPERATIVE WORK EXPERIENCE

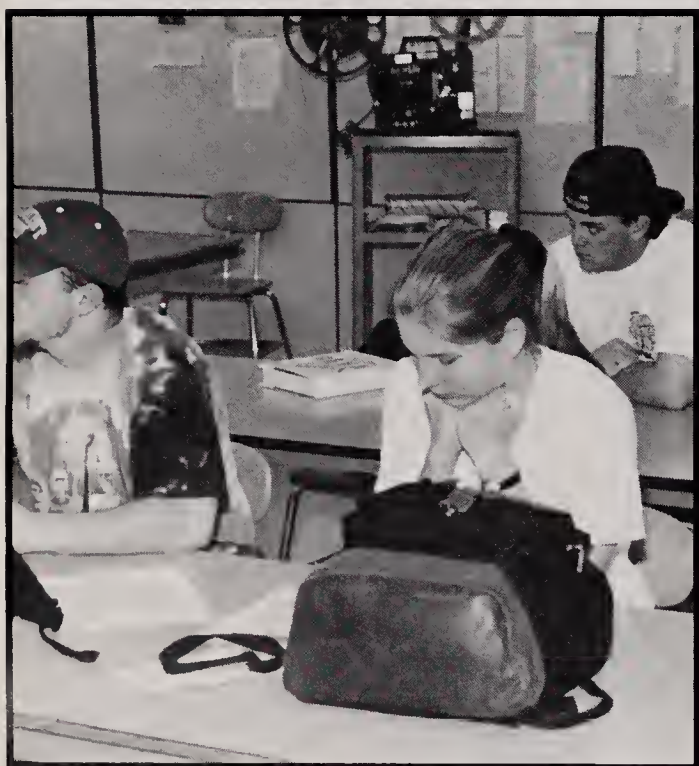

TAKING THE TIME TO HELP PLAN THE FUTURE

Real life skills are an important part of growing up. These real life skills usually can't be taught in a regular classroom. The cooperative work experience program at SWHS gives students the chance to learn skills that will help them in the real world of work.

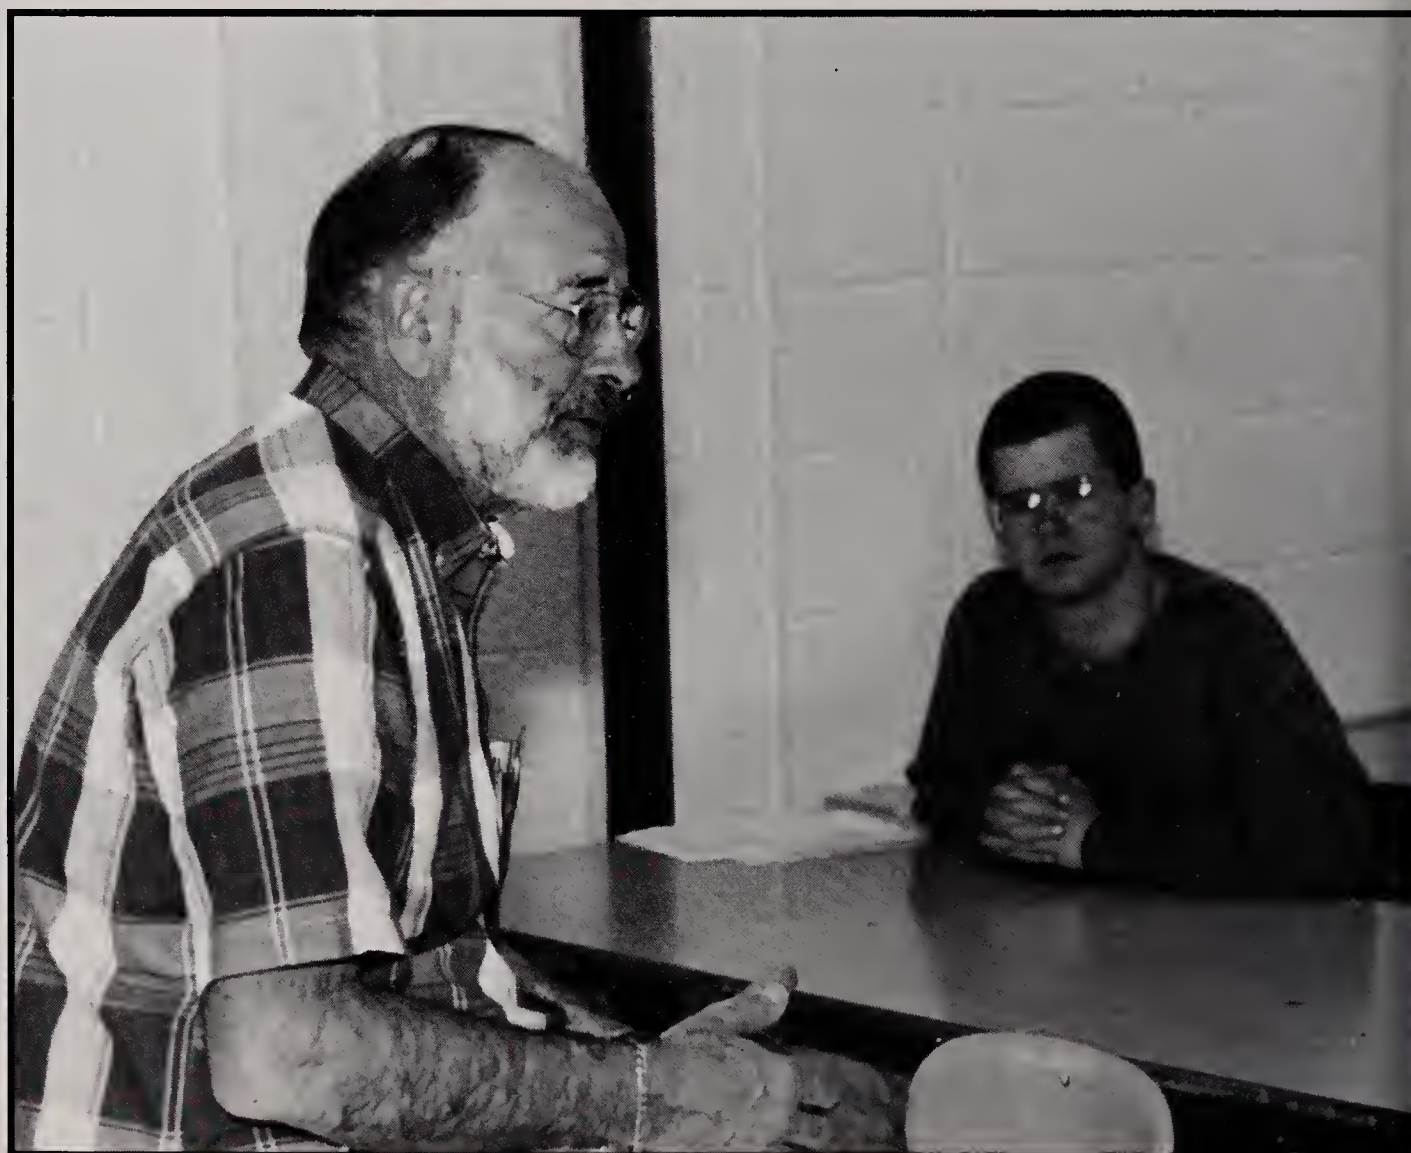

"You need exposure before you can get out there and work after college," explained Mrs. Mealy, "C.W.E. gives you the part of the skills and experience that many employers are looking for."

Students in the C.W.E. program learn about basic life skills, career exploration, resume writing, college application writing, self management and teamwork. They also learn how to fill out their tax forms, all their employer's forms and insurance forms. C.W.E. participants must also learn how to budget their money and are required to balance a "mock" budget for a year. This gives them a head start on a lot of the things that they will need to know after high school.

The C.W.E. program also helps students get jobs. Some of these jobs are internships that are in the students field of interest. The students get graded on how well they perform at the work place.

"Computers and technology change so fast," explained Mrs. Bickford, "it never gets boring."

As the technology has changed, so has the SWHS business department. Where manual typewriters once dwelled, now the personal computer is the word processor of choice. The fast changing world of business technology constantly keeps the business department improving their skills and tailoring the course offerings to meet the skills that are needed in the business world

ART

CREATIVITY IS NOW

The artistic talent in this school is shown in many different ways. Colorful painting, drawing, jewelry, and pottery are the ways that focuses this talent.

"In jewelry and pottery I have a chance to create with my hands and use my imagination," said Shelly Oliger. "I've been having lots of fun in both classes." Students are encouraged to expand their imagination and use their creative skills to create fine art work.

One of SWHS's painting classes, led by Ms. Greco, did a series of paintings on Connecticut's historical origins that was on display in the West Farms Mall.

At the annual Scholastic Art competition, SWHS was represented by many art students. Jen Kelley placed with a hand thrown ceramic bowl. Nikki Gottier and Aimeé Stairs won Gold Keys for the jewelry they created in Ms. Hachadourian's creative metal design class. Nikki's and Aimeé's work went on to the National Competition and were exhibited in the nations capital at the Corcoran Gallery.

Each year a competition is held for seniors going on to art school. Scholarships for school are the prizes in this juried show and the competition is intense.

APPLIED TECHNOLOGY

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE NOW

Applied Technology is a very exciting and interesting area for many people. Students take courses in Applied Technology because they believe that it will help guide them in future endeavors, whether that is going on to higher education or directly into the market.

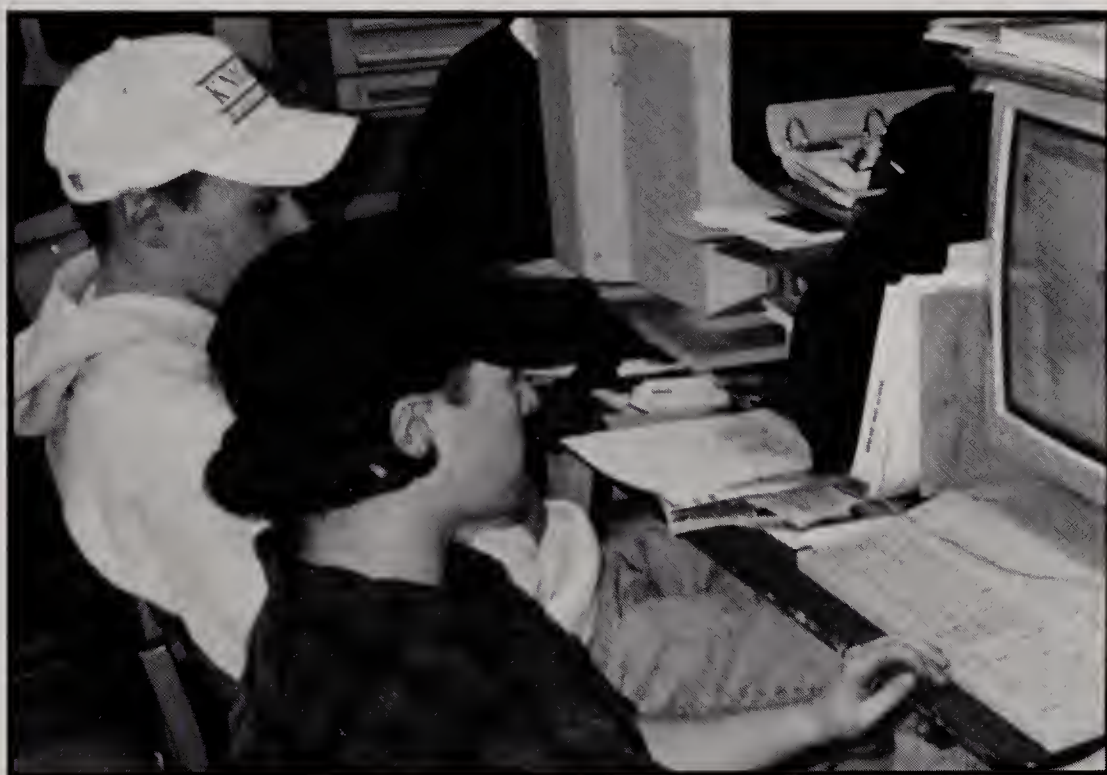

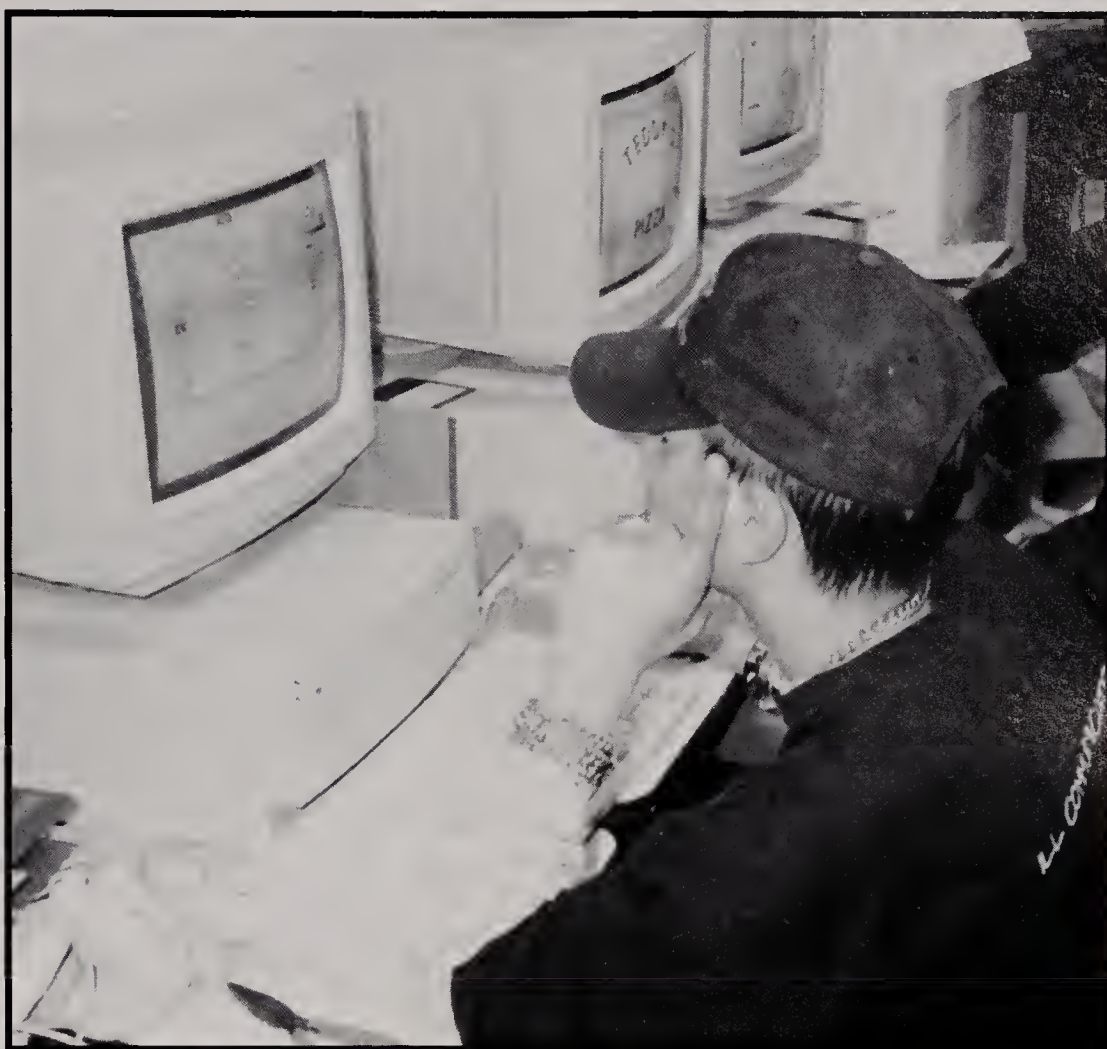

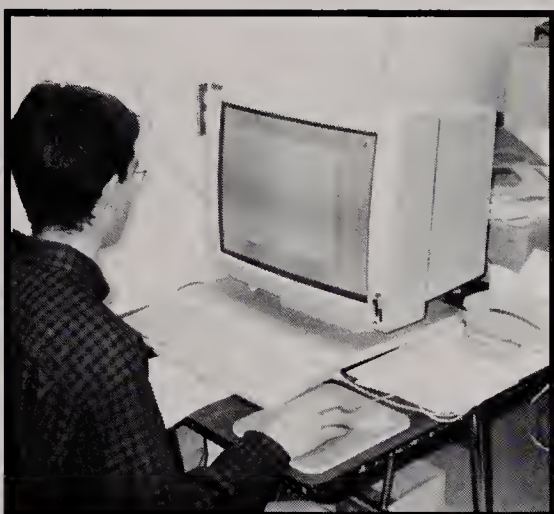

"I find the courses very fascinating and I learn a lot about new technologies," said Ryan Papp.

Journalism, TV production, video's, graphic arts, computer-aided drafting and design, aerospace, product design and production methods and wood crafting are just some of the areas that teach and use real world skills.

"There is so much to learn in technology," said senior Ryan Joy. "I love learning this kind of stuff."

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Services at SWHS are designed to help students to reach the full potential in their years at the high school. The Guidance Department also provides students with alternative programs to help them deal with many other problems.

"I think that when you help a person grow, you feel good because you've helped that person gain the ability to feel good about themselves," said Ms. Levy.

Guidance also provides students with the facilities to help them plan their careers. The Career Center contains information on different colleges and career possibilities. The counselors are actively involved with all of their students pursuits with either colleges or work opportunities.

This year the Guidance Department was enlightened by the presence of Marcia Kaiser, an intern from UCONN. She offered new ideas and extra help for the students.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

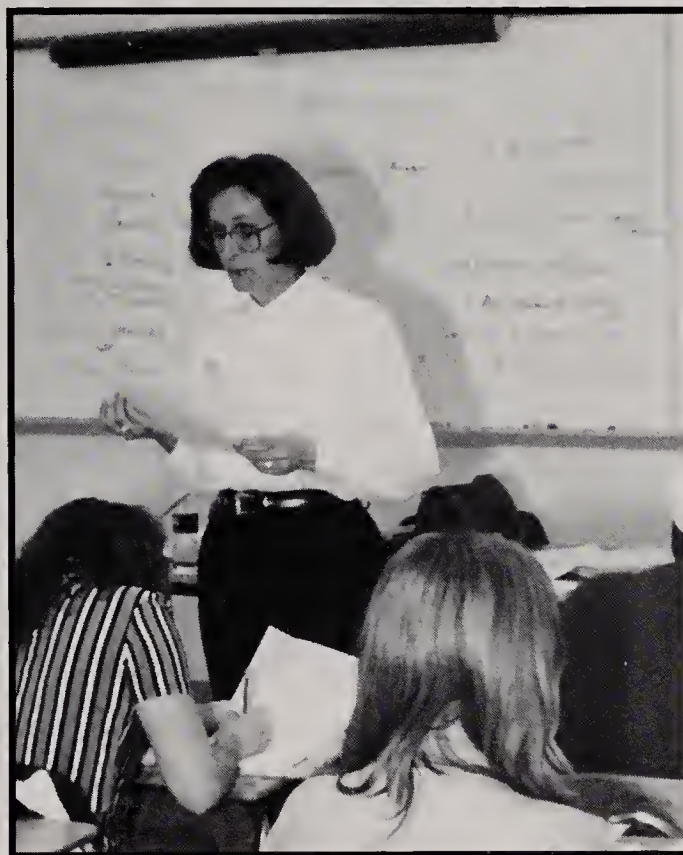

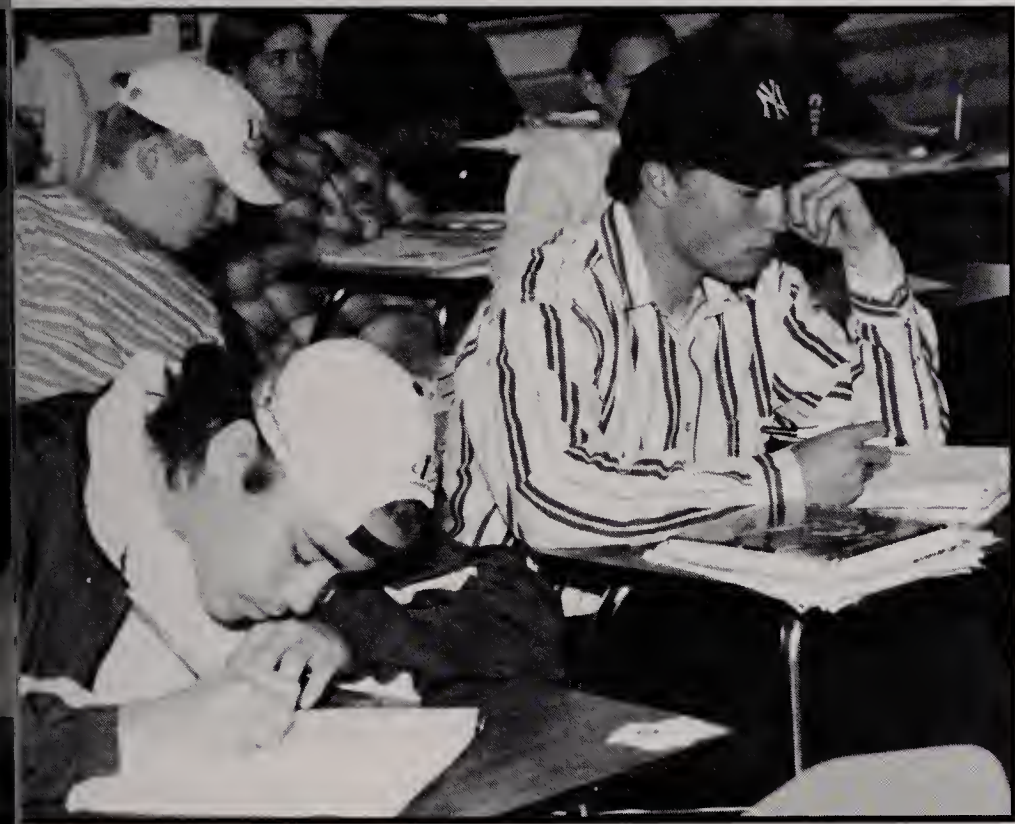

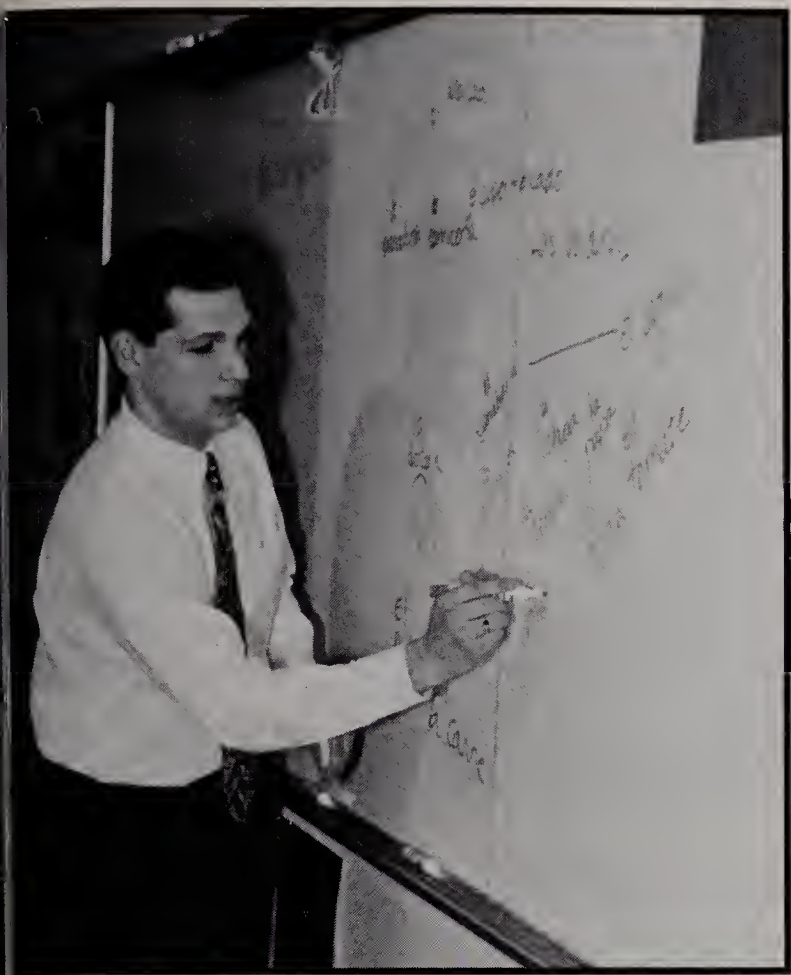

The foreign language department at SWHS offers three different languages, Spanish, French, and Latin. Students learn not only a country's language but also the culture. Some of the students in the upper level Spanish classes went to Spain during the April vacation and got to explore the country and learn more about the Spanish culture.

The foreign language department also offers students the option of learning Russian or Japanese through the Project Cable Connect. This project connects MCTC, SWHS, Manchester High School and Glastonbury High School via interactive cable television for a joint learning experience.

The foreign language department provides students with a fun way to learn the language, discover new cultures, and enrich their lives while doing it.

ENGLISH

From Romeo and Juliet to One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest; from The Great Gatsby to Lord of the Flies: no matter how you look at it, the English Department has much to offer.

The English curriculum offers a wide variety of classes. Some of these focus on: World Literature, American Literature, Short Fiction, Poetry, Rhetoric (grammar), and Male/Female Perspectives.

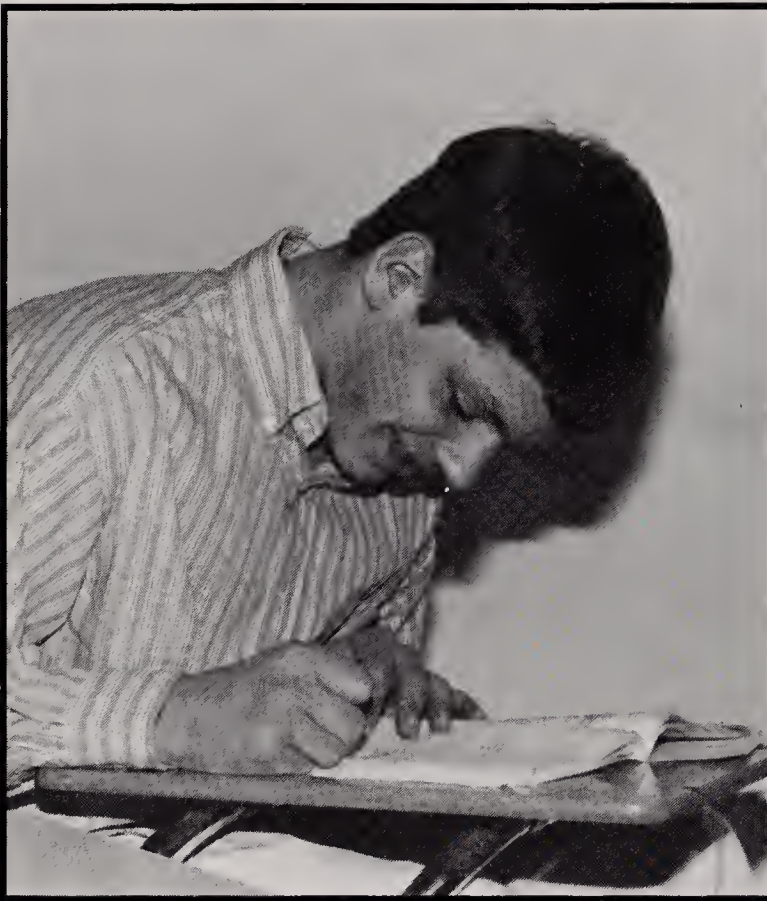

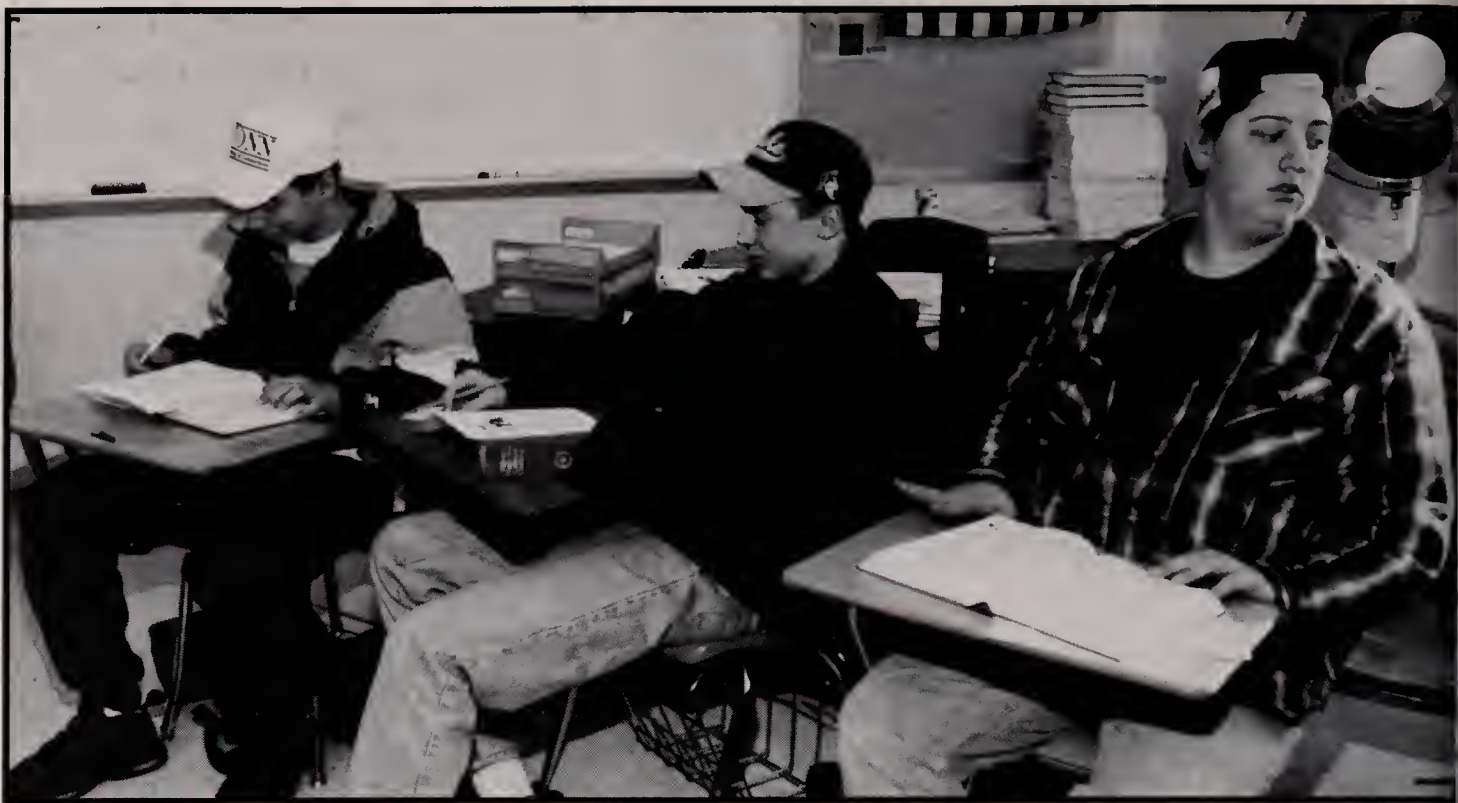

According to English teacher, Mr. Foley, "Students can expect a new class or two next year." A possible new addition to the English curriculum would be a course called the Art of Drama. "In this course, students would explore plays, not only the written script but also the production of it," said Mr. Foley.

Mrs. Davidson's AP English class presented an edited version of American Holiday, by Joyce Carol Oates, to a packed auditorium. After the play, the cast led a discussion of the topics presented in the play.

SOCIAL STUDIES

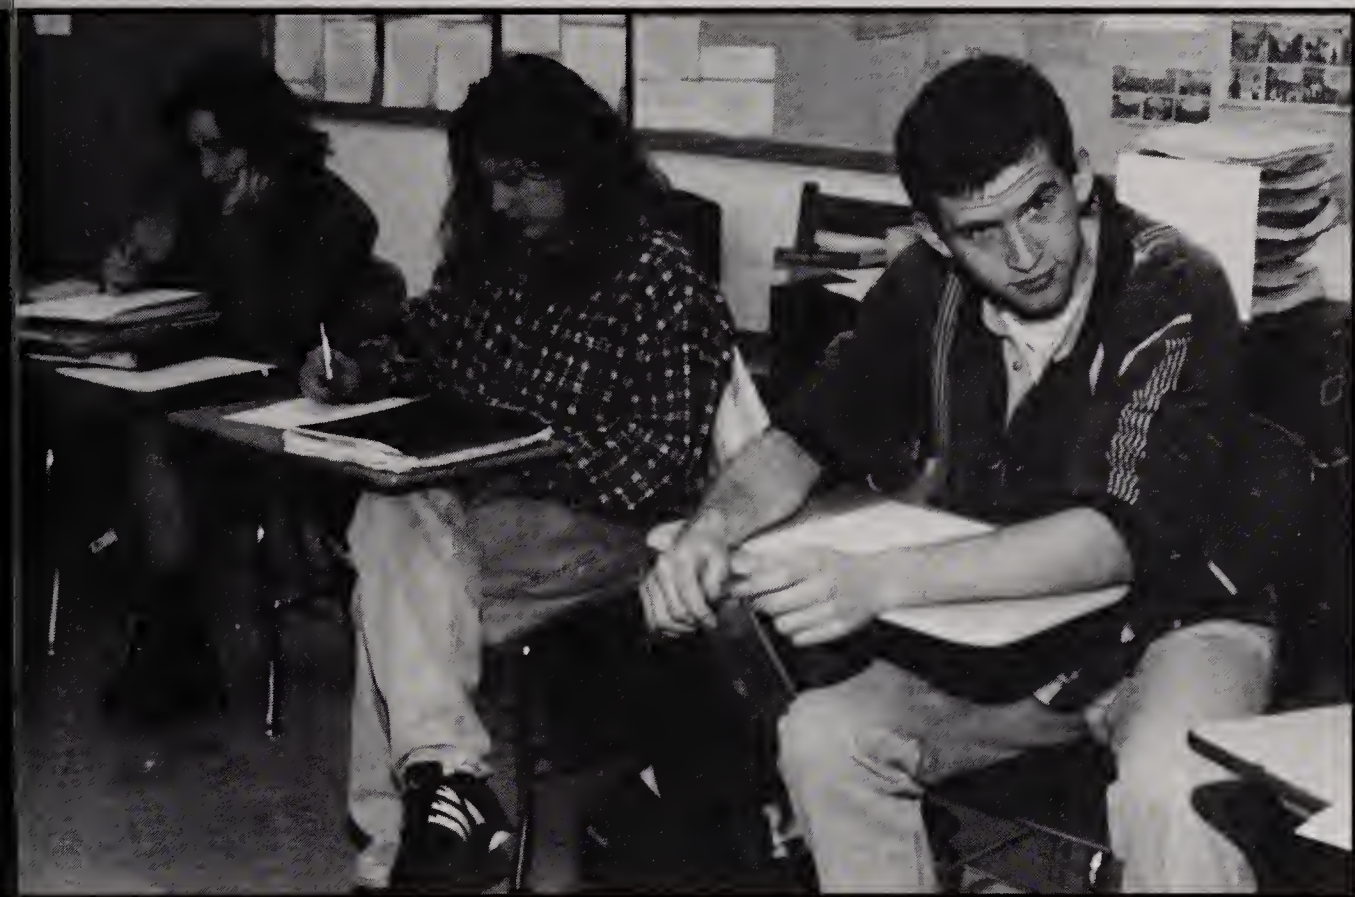

WITH TIME, THE WORLD WILL BE IN OUR HANDS

From Germany to Japan, from Pakistan to Chile, or from South America to right here in the United States of America, whatever it is that you want to study, you can find it in the Social Studies Department.

This year the Freshman who took Global Village participated in an event called Model United Nations. This two day event takes weeks of practice and research. Each student, in his/her class is placed in a group of three or four students and each group represents a country. The students have to research their country and find out what its needs are. Once the students have all of their research completed they write a resolution. Then comes the two day event. All of the Global Village classes get together in the cafeteria and try to get their resolutions passed.

Taking a field trip to the United Nations building in New York City gave the freshman in the Global Village classes a look at how the UN works in real life.

MATH

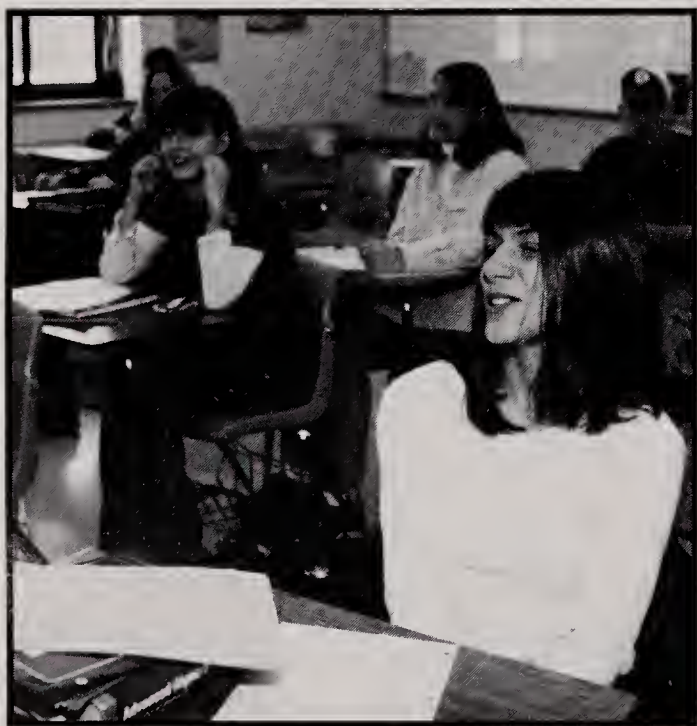

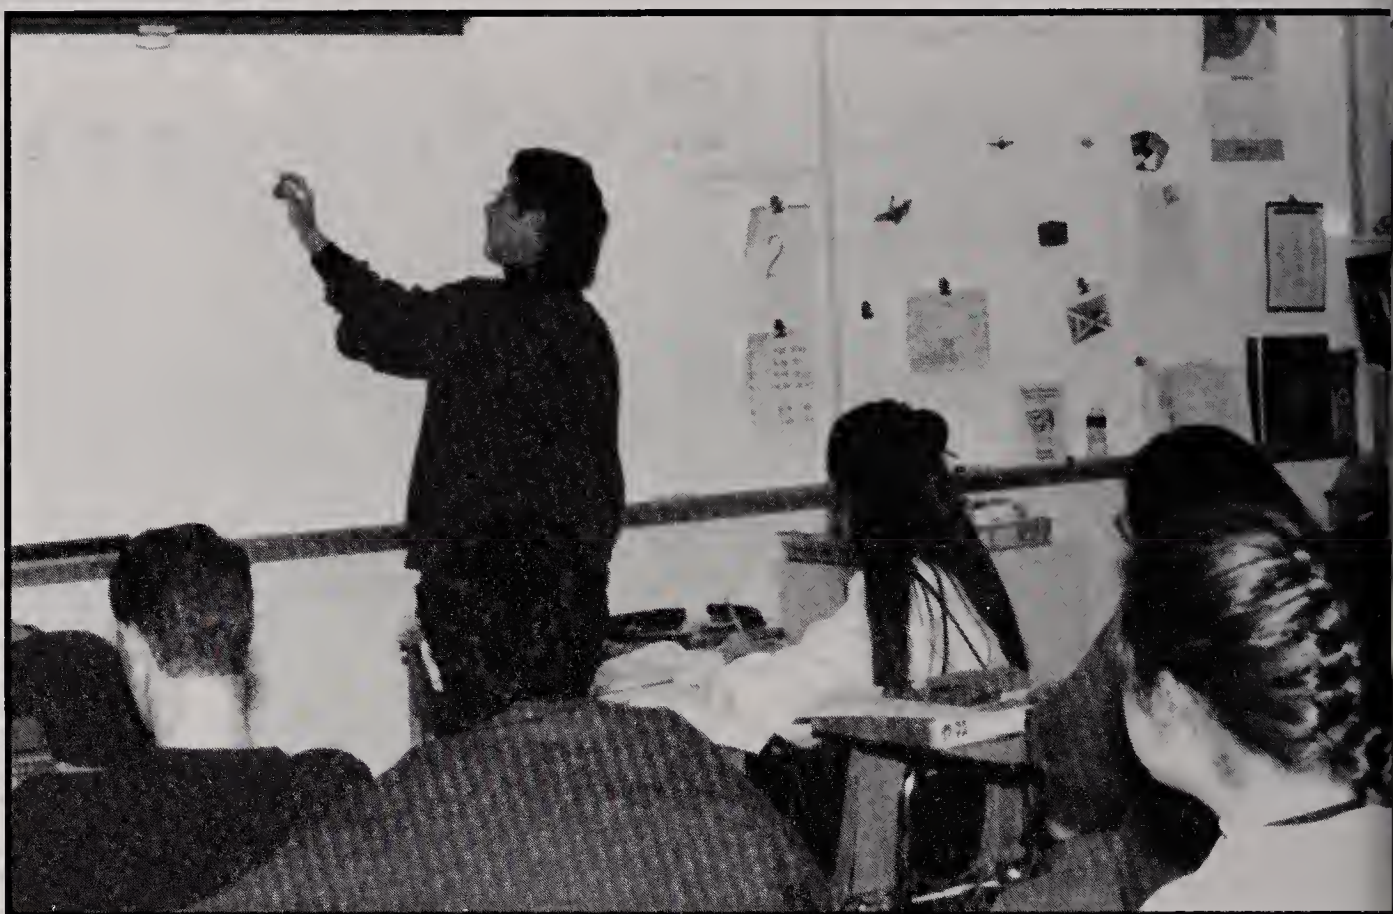

From fractions, to percents, to theorems, to proofs, to vectors, to quadratic equations, the mathematics department has them all.

Offering four years of courses to suit all students' needs and abilities, math courses range from general math to honors calculus. These classes are formulated to help students in preparation for mathematics-based college studies and to be able to function in the work place.

"I don't get it." is often heard in the math hallway but there is always a math teacher ready and willing to help that student finally understand.

SCIENCE

This year in Science many new faces appeared in the classrooms. Mr. Maas and Mrs. [unclear] added many new challenging yet fun activities. In physics class replicas of diverse amusement park rides were constructed which led to a field trip to Six Flags Amusement Park. A new program was added called "Man on Earth: A Lab Study". Every six weeks the students have a new teacher come and teach new ideas. This gives the students the basic knowledge of six different sciences which will help them determine their future choices in science.

"I love being a science teacher because it gives me the opportunity to try many new things and answer many meaningful questions," explained Mr. White, "It's very exciting to be doing something like this."

PHYSICAL ED

This year was a time for of change in the Physical Education program at SWHS. Students where given the option of which activ-ity they preferred to take part in during gym class. These activities included everything from ping-pong, soccer, tennis, softball, foot-ball, weight training to basketball and more.

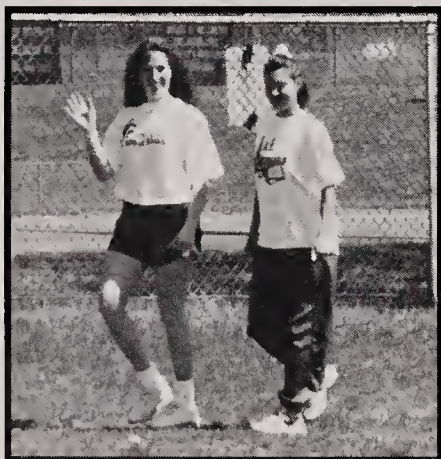

Students chose either team or individual sports. This gave the students a new way to participate in gym class. The students where able to take part in activities that they en-joyed.

"I believe that gym class is more enjoyable this year," explained coach Lebreche, "the kids have a lot more fun this way."

The physical education department and the students both agree that this new and improved gym class has brought more enjoy-ment into the physical education process.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

In Child Development students are taught about teaching and caring for young children. Students work with many different children ages three to four.

The class is run as a pre-school. The young children get to know each SWHS student which gives them a chance to get used to different personalities.

The pre-schoolers have play time, sports time, and a clean up time where they learn responsibility. The students learn how a child's mind and body works in their early stages.

"I think that the most interesting thing about the course, is seeing how the children adapted to such an unfamiliar environment so quickly," said Mariella Barille about the class.

ADULT LIVING

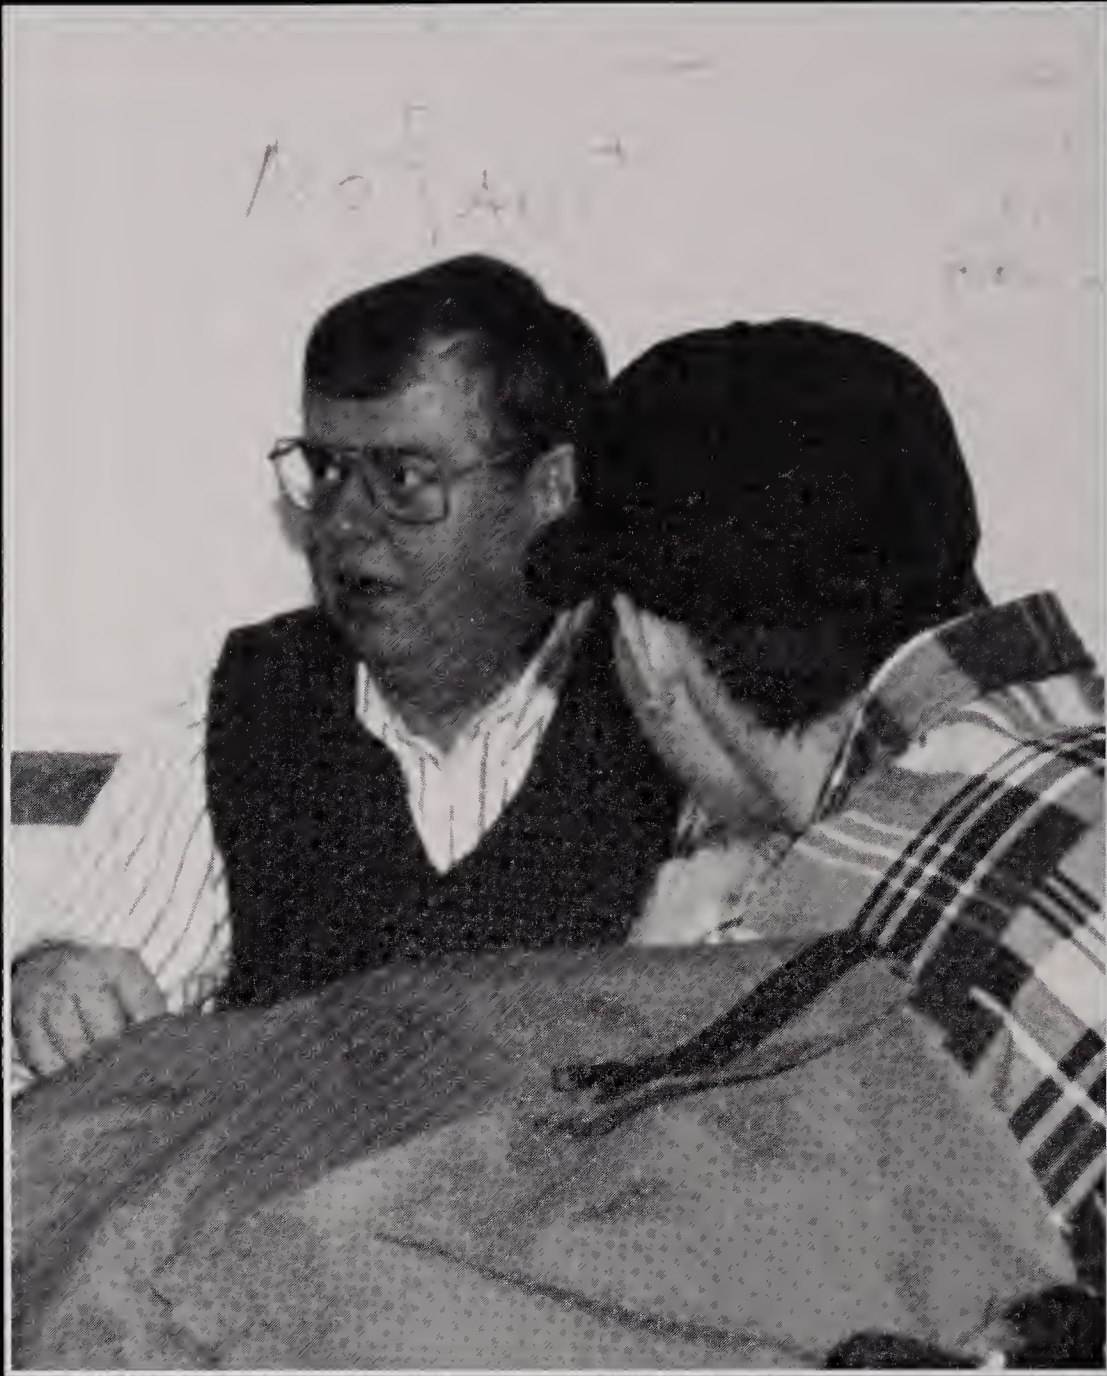

Adult living is the place where students learn about maturity and responsibility in their daily lives. Applied psychology is used in relating to everyday life. Various topics such as homophobia and sexuality are discussed.

Students watched the movie Philadelphia gave presentations on how the topic related to their everyday life.

The class gave presentations to a fifth grade class on dangers of drug use.

The majority of the class have completed their C.P.R. certification test making the students officially qualified to give C.P.R.

The students also got to play parents for a weekend. By caring for a doll with an implanted micro chip that recorded the students responses to the dolls needs, the students were graded on how well they took care of their mock child.

IN MEMORY OF...

ROBERT MYETTE

Tuesday, November 7, 1995 at 5:50 pm, Mr. Robert Myette, a loved and admired business teacher at SWHS died at Hartford Hospital as result of pneumonia and complications of a heart problem. As the announcement of Mr. Myette's passing was heard over the intercom students remembered fondly and sadly of the memories of Mr. Myette's presense in the school.

Mr. Myette was born in South Windsor, went to school in South Windsor, and eventually taught here at SWHS. He made a tremendous contribution to the community, as a town counselman and deputy mayor for many years. His teaching, his family, politics and the community were important aspects of Mr. Myette's life.

Mr. Myette began teaching at SWHS in 1965, leading classes in Business and Accounting. His teaching techniques were extremely effective which most students attribute to hands on experience such as trips to the New York Stock Exchange. Students felt that though Mr. Myette's classes were difficult, they felt that Mr. Myette would always be there to answer any questions they had. Jeff Larsen, a business student of Mr. Myette's said, "I hope that in the future, students will remember Mr. Myette as a great teacher who always made us laugh, made us learn, and taught us about the real world."

Above all, the community has suffered a great loss. Mr. Myette was one of the few individuals in this community that was born, went to school, and came back to work for the community. He worked to create a greater community, to make South Windsor a safer town, and encourage others to take pride in their community. Mr. Salvatore Randazzo, a man who knew Mr. Myette for 38 years said that "With Mr. Myette's death we lose a part of our past and our tradition. We lose the memory of how the South Windsor community came to be."

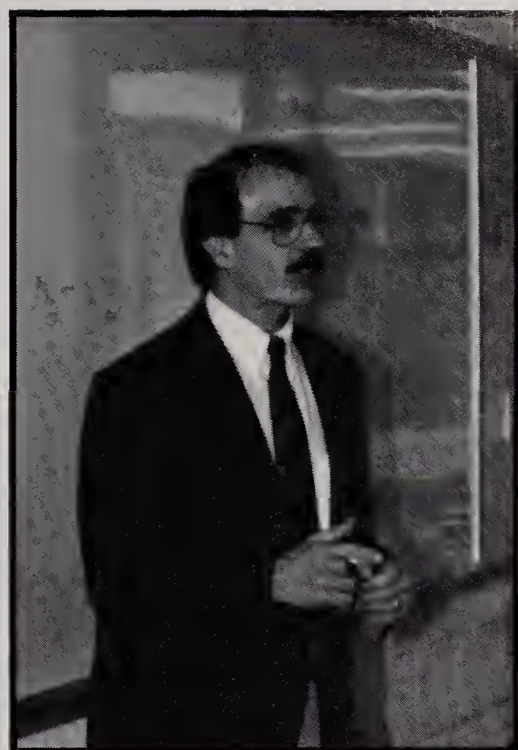

Sadly, Mr. Myette's passing came so quickly, students and teachers had little time to thank Mr. Myette for his contributions, and his impact on their lives. His dedication to the community was incredible, his pride in his students was insurmountable and most of all, his kindness was everywhere. Mrs. Bickford, a business teacher said "For those who never met Mr. Myette, know that "his heart and soul were in everything thing he did."

Five years ago, when I walked through the doors of SWHS for the first time I was a troubled, misguided and lost child. But now as I finish my final year in this fine institution I am a responsible and ambitious young man ready to make a positive contribution to today's society. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the faculty of SWHS for their unconditional support and guidance throughout the past five years.

Thank you and God Bless

JUST BE OURSELVES.

WE ARE:

THE CLASS OF 1996!

THE 70'S ARE BACK AND WE'RE STAYIN' ALIVE AT SWHS. HOMECOMING '95

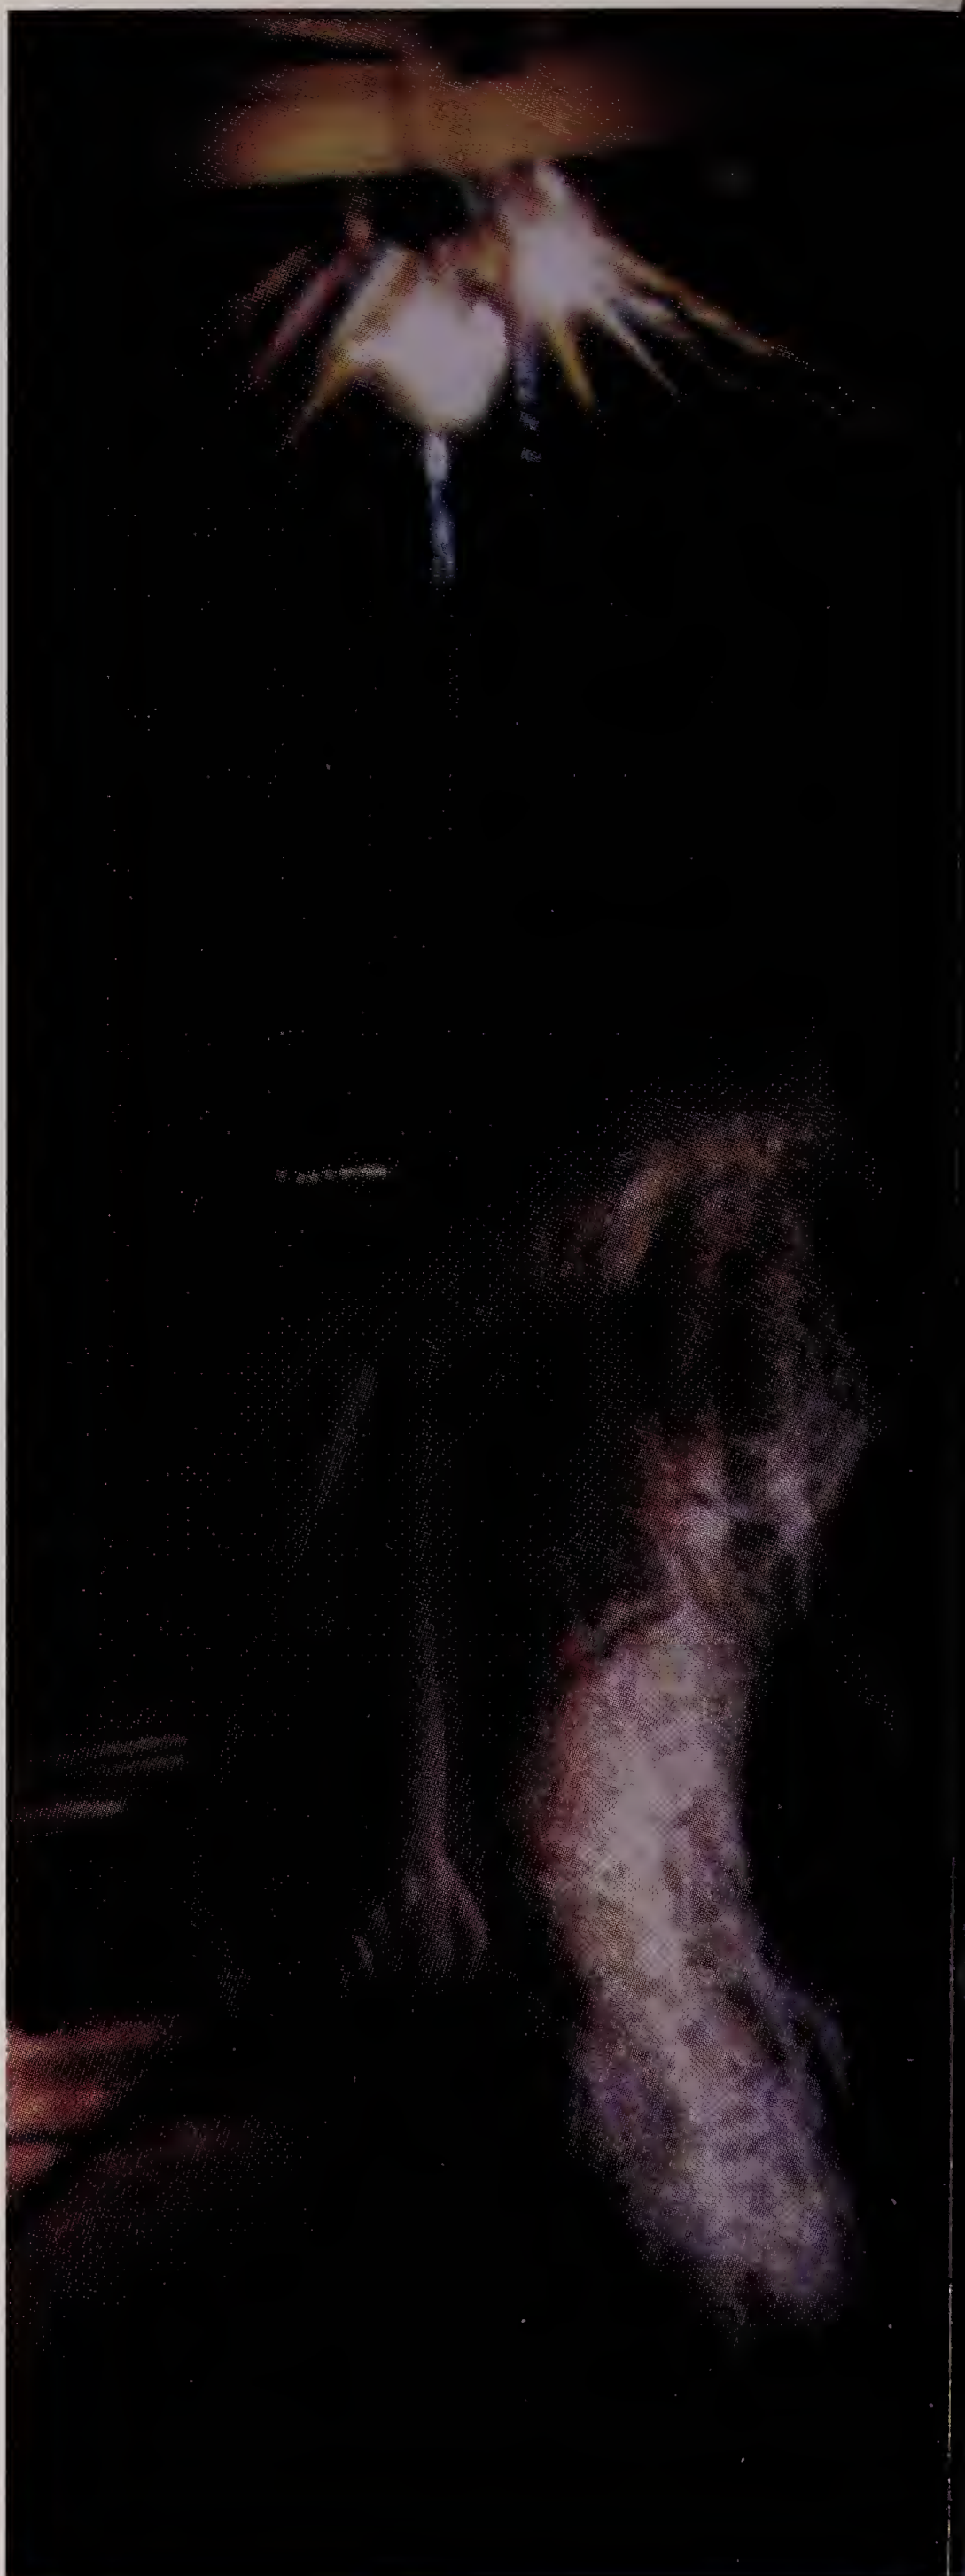

If the senior class had no spirit it was proven by the attendance at the Homecoming Committee meetings. Even though the committee met every Tuesday and Thursday for a month before the event, the meetings were very poorly attended. Class officers and advisors tried repeatedly to stir up interest in the meetings, but to no avail. The officers in charge of the dance, Kelly Gerrity and Morgan King, struggled to complete the task of planning for the event and decorating the gym with only a small staff to help them. In fact, decorations were completed a mere thirty minutes before the dance started.

However, Homecoming did go on. Inspired by the football team's victory over East Hartford, the students at the dance were in a good mood, despite the storm raging outside. This year's theme (Disco) seemed to be enjoyed by everyone. Karaoke was a big hit and many students came dressed in that ever so becoming style of the 70's.

Stephanie Foran felt that the dance as a whole, "Was a blast!" Kelley Gerrity said, "The dance went well despite the rush of the Homecoming Committee to get the decorations up in time."

JUNIOR PROM '95

"THESE ARE THE DAYS"

"These are the Days," was playing loud and clear as everyone sat down to eat their dinner. "This has been the biggest Prom we've ever had!" Mrs. Mortenson told a year book staff member. "We had to add extra tables."

Everyone had a great time. "People who didn't usually talk to each other were and that's part of the reason the Prom was so wonderful. Everyone put their differences aside and had a lovely evening!" one Junior said.

Due to the great time everyone appeared to be having, Mr. Randazzo and Mr. Bordenaro extended the Prom another half hour. "It was a great idea," said Junior Kristina Bordieri, "but not too many people stayed that late, most people left by 12:15AM."
